GULF STORM TAKES TOLL OF 13 LIVES AND HEAVY DAMAGE

PARTY OF DALLAS MINISTERS FISHING REACH ARANSAS PASS
AFTER TWO DAYS ON OPEN SEA.
FORT WORTH PARTY IS RE-PORTED SAFE.

PROPERTY LOSS $2,000,000 WILSON URGED TO CHANGE PLAN

Large Portion of Lower Coast Cotton Crop Is Damaged and Large Numbers of Houses and Public Improvements Between Corpus and Border Are Left in Ruins.

LIFE LOSS PLACED AT 16.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 20.— Latest reports tonight of life losses in Friday's gulf coast hurricane place the total at sixteen, as follows:
Nine members of the crew of the steamer Pilot Boy, wrecked off Port Aransas.
Three Mexicans, one a woman, on ranch near Katherine, Tex., one Mexican at San Diego,
one Mexican at Sarita,
Two Mexicans at La Porta.

Corpus Christi, Texas, Aug. 20.—The loss of life from the tropical storm which struck Corpus Christi and ten adjacent south Texas counties on Friday night was placed at thirteen tonight, including the members of the crew of the small freighter Pilot Boy, which foundered off the Aransas Pass jetties. Two Mexican men and one Mexican woman were killed at Katherine, a little settlement near Alice,
Texas, and one Mexican was reported killed at San Diego, both of which towns are between fifty and sixty miles apart.

DAMAGE MAY BE $2,000,000.

The total damage in this section was estimated at $2,000,000. This includes devastating a large portion of the lower coast's cotton crop which was about to be picked. The damage at Corpus Christi was estimated at $500,000.
Other losses were: Aransas Pass
$150,000, Rockport $75,000, Alice $100,- 000, San Diego $50,000, Robstown $50,- 000, Bishop $150,000, Kingsville $100,- 000, towns in the Rio Grande valley $300,000 and other widely separated and isolated points $500,000.

CORPUS BEACH FRONT DEVASTATED.

In Corpus Christi itself, a beach front devastated of everything except the more substantial buildings, debris and wreckage from bath houses, pleasure pavilions and smaller wharves piled up on Water street was the sum total of the storm havoc.
The greatest damage was done at North Beach. Most of the roof of the Corpus Beach hotel was washed away by the storm and the building itself rocked on its foundation. A part of the causeway was torn away, while a trestle of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad was washed or blown away. Hardin Court pier, containing upward of fifty cottages, also was carried away, and Lloyd's pier, a pleasure pavilion; several bathing piers, fishing docks and other wooden structures were wrecked.

The municipal wharf was not damaged and aside from broken windows and some unroofed buildings little damage was done in the part of the city.

STILL WITHOUT LIGHT AND POWER.

This city was still without electric light or power tonight, but telephones were in operation. The gas and water supply was not impaired. There was no food shortage and the number of homeless was negligible.

CRISIS IN GREAT RAILROAD STRIKE SITUATION IS NEAR

EMPLOYEES "MARK TIME" WHILE OFFICIALS STILL CONFER OVER POSSIBILITY OF SECURING AR-BITRATION OF AT LEAST SOME POINTS AT ISSUE.

WILSON URGED TO CHANGE PLAN

Manufacturers Feel Principle of Arbitration
in Dealing With Employees
Is Endangered, but Wilson Advises
There Is No Means in Present Crisis Whereby Arbitration Can Be Had.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Wilson's week of conferences with ranking officials of the railroads and leaders of their employees threatening a nationwide strike is believed by all parties to the controversy to have brought the situation to a point where decisive developments may be expected within a few days.

The president replied indirectly today to contentions of the road officials to the people of arbitration endangered by his plan for putting the eight-hour basic day into effect while a commission investigates its practicability and passes upon other points at issue. In a telegram made public at the white house the president declared he held firmly to arbitration as a principle and that his plan strengthened rather than weakened it. He also said that some means must be found to prevent the existing situation from ever arising again.

ROAD OFFICERS STILL CONFERRING.

Meantime the road officials, who have tentatively refused to accept Mr.
Wilson's proposal, continued conferences among themselves. The labor leaders, who already have approved the proposal, marked time awaiting a definite decision from the employers. The president's telegram defending his plan was in reply to an appeal from George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, arguing that the principle of arbitration be preserved in the strike negotiations. Mr. Pope's telegram follows:

MANUFACTURERS FOR ARBITRATION.

"Hartford, Conn., Aug. 18, 1916.—
The President, the White House: In behalf of 3,700 manufacturing organizations employing 3,000,000 persons, and utterly dependent upon the uninterrupted railroad service for their continued operation, I beg to at once express our deep appreciation of your efforts to prevent the threatened destructive stoppage of national railroad service, and to respectfully urge that you with all the power of your great personality assert and maintain the principle of arbitration for industrial disputes affecting national intercourse.
No just demand can fear such a test;
no unfair demand can or should survive it. I sincerely believe no man in our history has possessed such an opportunity to fortify this essential principle of public security against future attack by employers or employees.

"GEORGE POPE,
President National Association of Manufacturers."

PRESIDENT MAKES REPLY.

The president said:
"Allow me to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of August 18, and to say to you in reply that I hold to the principle of arbitration with as clear a conviction and as firm a purpose as anyone, but that unfortunately there is no means now in existence by which arbitration can be secured. The existing means have been tried and have failed. This situation must be allowed to arise again, but it must be prevented by some means must be found to prevent its recurrence, but no means can be found off-hand or in a hurry or in season to meet the present national emergency. What I am proposing does not weaken or discredit the

SENATORS HOPEFUL ADJOURNMENT MAY BE IN A FEW DAYS

TODAY WILL BEGIN DISCUSSION OF REVENUE BILL DESIGNED TO RAISE $205,000,000 ANNUALLY
THROUGH INCOME, CORPORA-TION AND OTHER TAXES.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Adjournment of congress now waits only on the passage of the emergency revenue bill, repeal of the army appropriation bill with amendments to meet President Wilson's veto, completion of the general deficiency appropriation measure and final action on a few conference reports, including the government shipping bill.

Senate leaders who have grown optimistic over the rapid progress of legislation within the last few days said they would be ready to adjourn next Saturday if the house could be pre-valued upon to accept the amended revenue bill without a fight. This does not seem likely because of discussion that may arise over general deficiency appropriations. Congress probably will not adjourn before September 1 or 2.

Fears of indefinite delay resulting from President Wilson's veto of the army appropriation bill because of its exemption from the military code of retired officers and men have almost entirely disappeared.
On Tuesday the house will re-pass
the bill under special rule with the articles of war which contained the president's objectionable amendment eliminated. It will be rushed to the senate where the plan is to re-insert the articles of war minus the Hay amendment. Unless the president's plans miscarry the bill will then go to conference and Representative Hay, his friends declare, will surrender.

Tomorrow the senate will begin discussion of the revenue bill, designed to raise $205,000,000 annually through income, inheritance, munitions, liquor, corporation, stock and miscellaneous taxes.

NORMAN ANGELL IS SENTENCED BY COURT

Berlin, Aug. 20.—Via Wireless to Saville.—The Overseas News agency says an Italian newspaper has published a report that the English writer, Norman Angell, has been sentenced to eighteen months at hard labor, after having been under arrest for several months because he declined to take part in the war. The report says Mr.
Angell's plea that he had conscientious objections to war service was overruled by an English court.

Mr. Angell is the author of a number of works on war and the United States has spent his youth in the United States and was in this country for several weeks last winter. He is best known for his advocacy of international peace.

Wheat Supply One-Fourth Off

Rome, Aug. 20.—The International Institute of Agriculture reports that with harvesting virtually completed in most European countries, indications are that the 1916 world's wheat supply will be almost 25 per cent less than last year's. It is pointed out, however, that 1915 was a bumper year and that the new crop is nearer up to the average between 1900 and 1913.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

GERMAN FLEET IN NORTH SEA CLASH SINKS 2 CRUISERS

FIRST APPEARANCE IN NORTH SEAS OF STRONG GERMAN NA-VAL FORCES SINCE BATTLE OF JUTLAND—LOST VESSELS WERE BRITISH—39 OF CREWS LOST.

VIOLENT FIGHTING ON VERDUN FRONT.

Paris, Aug. 20.—Violent fighting continued last night on the Verdun front, where the Germans made a determined effort to recapture the village of Fleury from the French. The war office said that the Germans were repulsed with severe losses.

The German high seas fleet has again appeared in the North sea and in a clash between German submarines and British scout ships, two British light cruisers have been sent to the bottom.

London reports that one of the submarines was destroyed and that another was rammed and possibly sunk.
This is the first appearance in the North sea of a strong German naval force since the battle of Jutland on May 31. The first news that the Germans had left the shelter of their mine fields and fortified bases was brought to Holland by trawlers which reported sighting a German squadron of fifteen warships, including large cruisers. This fleet was accompanied by two Zeppelins and was steering northwest in the region of White Bank.

The two British vessels lost were the Nottingham, 4,000 tons, and the Dorset, 2,500 tons. The crews of both the ships were saved, with the exception of thirty-nine men. The Germans also claim to have sunk a British destroyer and damaged a battleship,
but this is denied by London.

FRENCH ARE PRESSING FORWARD.

On the western front the French continue to press forward in the neighborhood of Guillemont and Paris reports the capture of a strongly fortified wood between that town and Maurepas. In the Verdun sector the Germans are fiercely counter-attacking in an effort to regain Fleury, loss of which they concede. The British report the repulse of German counter-attacks and the capture of a portion of the trenches north of Bazentin-le-Petit.

Berlin admits that General Brussil-off's troops have crossed the Stokhod at one point and Petrograd says that the Russians have pushed on beyond the river and captured a series of heights on the road to Kovil.

Fierce fighting continues on the east of the Carpathians, where the Russians are battling within sight of the Hungarian plains.

The offensive on the Saloniki front is slowly developing and the fighting is growing in intensity on the long battle line from Lake Presta to Lake Doiran.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS DECREASING IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 20.—Another substantial decrease in the number of deaths from infantile paralysis and the number of new cases strengthened belief that the epidemic is waning.
There were only twenty deaths today and 105 new cases, the lowest figures for several weeks.

SHOTS EXCHANGED ON NACO BORDER

Naco, Ariz., Aug. 20.—Over 100 shots were exchanged across the international line about a mile west of here last night between patrols belonging to the colored militia troops from the District of Columbia and a party on the Mexican side. The multiracial troops that they challenged some Mexicans who attempted to cross. In answer the Mexicans fired. In the fusillade that followed one Mexican was wounded. He was captured.

Eight Killed in Munition Plant Explosion

Montreal, Quebec, Aug. 20.—Eight persons were killed and more than a score injured in an explosion early today in a munitions plant at Drummondville. The cause of the disaster has not been determined.

Baisey Long Brought to Jail by Negroes

Gainesville, Fla., Aug. 20.—Baisey Long, a negro who Friday shot and killed S. C. Wynne, a constable, and wounded Dr. L. G. Harris when they went to the negro's home to arrest him on a charge of hog stealing, was captured today by two negroes and brought to jail here. He later was removed to another jail for safe keeping.
A mob pursuing Long yesterday lynched five negroes, including two women, who were accused of aiding the fugitive to escape.

Tobacco Salesman Arrested on Charge of Sending a Threatening Postal to Wilson

Baltimore, Aug. 20.—On the charge of sending a threatening post card to President Wilson, Theodore E. Jones, 65 years old, a tobacco salesman, who claims to be a marine draughts-man, was arrested at his home here today by postal authorities and held for a hearing. The postal in question never reached the president and read:
"If you do not answer my letter you will regret it." It is alleged that Jones wrote to Secretary of the Navy Daniels and to the president frequently, claiming credit for naval inventions.

300 Civilian "Rookies" on John Paul Jones Cruise Begin Doing Real Work

On Board U. S. S. Virginia, Somewhere South of Newport, Aug. 19.—
The first week of the John Paul Jones cruise for civilians on the reserve ships of the Atlantic fleet has seen adventure subsiding into work, at least it that way on the Virginia, which carries 500-odd recruits who shipped at Boston.

At noon Tuesday the ship steamed in Newport, greeted three other battleships assembled there and after a stay Tuesday evening the Virginia cast anchor at the rendezvous in Gardiner's bay, and the crew celebrated when it was passed that the ship was first of the reserve fleet.

Wednesday morning the real work began. Squads were detailed to man the big guns. Later there was boat drill and classes were formed for practical and theoretical instruction.
A full crew among the civilians reported for each gun. Men were stationed in the shell room, at the lifts to load, aim and fire the twelve-inch and eight-inch guns.
Efficiency demands that under war conditions they fire three shots a minute. It takes ten men to man a twelve-inch gun from the shell men down in the hold four decks below the turret to the pointer above. It took the civilian crew just five minutes from "holst away" to "fire." Yet a trained crew goes through it all in twenty seconds, shell after shell to the end. It was a better lesson than any amount of preparedness talks on the necessity of trained men.

IS BAILEY "BEATING BACK" TO SEEK U. S. SENATORSHIP?

R. L. HENRY DECLARES FORMER
SENATOR BAILEY SWITCHES
FROM CULBERSON TO COLQUITT
EXPECTING IN RETURN TO BE MADE SENATOR IN 1918.

HENRY DECLARES FOR CULBERSON

Sees Texas Again Menaced With Troublesome Issue of Baileyism and Is Surprised to Notice That Many Still Allow Non-resident in Texas to Intrude Himself Into Texas Politics.

Congressman Robert L. Henry yesterday announced his position in the senatorial contest in the following statement:

"Texas is again menaced with the troublesome issue of Baileyism. Bailey is again endeavoring to thrust his evil influence into Texas politics. It is strange that many good men will allow this non-resident to obstruct himself into the political affairs of our State. In law, he is not eligible to hold any office in Texas. He resides in Washington City, has a private residence there and is pursuing a private business at the national capital.

SWITCH FROM CULBERSON TO COLQUITT.

"As a sample of Mr. Bailey's political methods, observe his switch from Culbertson to Colquitt. He uses the convenient subterfuge of quitting Culbertson because he supported the federal child labor bill, and yet it is known that he supported Charles Morris for governor, who advocated national prohibition and national woman suffrage. If he really cherished states' rights, he cannot explain this conflict in his reasoning and record.

"This recent shift proves to my mind that Bailey and Colquitt have combined for the purpose of making Colquitt senator this time, and in return Bailey shall be senator two years hence. The earmarks are plain and show that Bailey and Colquitt are now working together.

"Bailey is a chronic critic of the Underwood tariff law and Colquitt is opposed to it. Colquitt is against the federal reserve act and Bailey is constantly criticizing it. Bailey has no sympathy with the Clayton anti-trust law and Colquitt has denounced it as "a far-fetched fake." Colquitt is opposed to the ship purchase bill, providing for a government merchant marine, and Bailey viciously assailed it. Bailey is opposed to the Alaskan railroad bill and so is Colquitt. And so everything done by this democratic administration, from the tariff act to the child labor bill and the ship purchase measure, is criticised and opposed by these two men. And they are still fighting all the constructive legislation of the democratic party as proposed by the president. Do these two men stand with the president on a single thing? What right have they (one a stand-pat republican and the other a non-resident) to control democratic primary in Texas? I must demand my duty as a democrat compels me to defend the democracy against their assaults.

HERE TO VOTE FOR CULBERSON.

"So you may say that I am remaining in Texas for the purpose of casting my vote for Culbertson against Colquitt. On next Saturday I shall go to the polls and vote for Culbertson. The life to the democracy in Texas and in the country at large is at stake in this contest and I shall stand with my party and our democratic platform.
"Party" means the people and the sacred covenants with the people, and I shall defend them against these bootleggers of our pledges."

American Federal Catholic Societies in Annual Session With Many Dignitaries Present

New York, Aug. 20.—Three princes of the Roman Catholic church, the papal delegates to the United States, the papal nuncio to Brazil, scores of bishops and other dignitaries, several hundred priests and thousands of laymen participated here today in the celebration of a solemn pontifical high mass at St. Patrick's cathedral. The occasion was the formal opening of the fifteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies and the sixty-fifth annual convention of the National Federation of German Catholics.

OPENING SERVICE IS INSPIRING.

At the opening of the ceremonies
Monseigneur Michael J. Lavelle, rector of the cathedral, read a message from Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, in which he said:
"The Holy Father will watch with a loving and paternal eye the Federation of Catholic societies of the United States holding their annual convention in New York."
The bishops, each attended by two surprised priests, occupied seats about the thrones. The monsignori remained outside the chancel rail, with the Knights of St. Gregory and the uniformed rank of the Knights of Columbus.

Lay delegates led the procession into the cathedral and several hundred priests in black cassocks and white surplices lined the center aisle while the cardinals, archbishops, bishops and monsignori with their attendants filed past.

Fifty altar boys and the officers of the mass attended Cardinal Farley.
Bishop Thomas F. Hickey of Rochester preached the sermon.

MANY OF THE CLERGY PRESENT.

Among the church dignitaries present besides the three cardinals were:
Archbishops Avers, papal nuncio to Brazil; Edmond F. Prendergast, of Philadelphia; Sebastian Messmer, of Milwaukee; and Bruchesi, of Montreal; Bishops Currier of Havana, Da Silva of Portugal, N. A. Gallagher of Galveston, and Shaahan of the Catholic university.

The annual report of Joseph Frey, president of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein, made public today, referred to "the swaying attitude of our government with respect to Mexico," and declared that "in the opinion of our best thinkers and leaders our so-called prosperity, chiefly due to traffic in munitions of war, will meet with an abrupt termination when peace shall have been established."

55,000-BARREL OIL TANK IS FIRED BY LIGHTNING SUNDAY

Beaumont, Aug. 19.—Lightning fired a 55,000 barrel tank of oil distillate belonging to the Magnolia company today. Probably half of the contents will be saved by pumping.
The total loss will be about $100,000. Other tanks are threatened, but 500 men are at work to prevent spread of the flames.

EIGHT YEAR OLD BOY KILLS 6-YEAR OLD SISTER

Gainesville, Texas, Aug. 20.—The 6-year-old daughter of George Sainders, farmer, residing six miles west of Gainesville, was accidentally shot and killed by her brother, aged 8, while playing with a shotgun this morning.
The contents of the charge entered the back of the girl's head, tearing away a portion of the skull.

RAILROAD PRESIDENTS SUMMONED BY WILSON; MANAGERS STAND PAT

WILSON URGED TO CHANGE PLAN

Manufacturers Feel Principle of Arbitration in Dealing With Employees Is Endangered, but Wilson Advises There Is No Means in Present Crisis Whereby Arbitration Can Be Had.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Wilson's week of conferences with ranking officials of the railroads and leaders of their employes threatening a nationwide strike is believed by all parties to the controversy to have brought the situation to a point where decisive developments may be expected within a few days.

The president replied indirectly today to contentions of the road officials to the people of an attempt to bring about a settlement by putting the eight-hour basic day into effect while a commission investigates its practicability and passes upon other points at issue. In a telegram made public at a public press conference, he declared he held firmly to arbitration as a principle and that his plan strengthened rather than weakened it. He also said that some means must be found to prevent the present situation from ever arising again.

Meantime the road officials, who have tentatively refused to accept Mr. Wilson's proposal, continued conferences among themselves. The labor leaders, who already have approved the proposal, marked time awaiting a definite decision from the employers.

The president's telegram defending his plan was in reply to an appeal from George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, arguing that the principle of arbitration be preserved in the strike negotiations. Mr. Pope's telegram follows:

"Harvard, Conn., Aug. 18 1916:-
The President, The White House:
On behalf of 3,700 manufacturing organizations employing 3,000,000 persons and using the products of 100,000 printers and other railroad service for their continued operation, I beg to at once express our deep appreciation of your efforts to prevent the threatened stoppage of national railroad service, and to respectfully urge that you with all the power of your great personality assert and maintain the principle of a strictly non-partisan attitude in offering national intercourse. No just demand can fear such a test as unfair demand can or should survive it. I sincerely believe no man in our history has ever had an opportunity to verify this essential principle of public security against future attack by employers or employees."
GEORGE W. FAY,

Seldom in the history of the gathering has there been so notable a gathering outside of Rome.

OPENING SERVICE IS INSPIRING.

At the opening of the ceremonies Monsignor Michael J. Lavelle, rector of the cathedral, read a message from Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, in which he said:

"The Holy Father will watch with a loving and paternal eye the development of Catholic societies of the United States holding their annual convention in New York."

The bishops, each attended by two surpliced priests, occupied seats about the throne. The monsignori remained in the chancel rail, with the Knights of St. Gregory and the uni-

Among the church dignitaries present besides the three cardinals, were Archbishop Agostino Casaroli, papal nuncio to Brazil; Edmond F. Prendergast, of Philadelphia; Sebastian Messmer, of Milwaukee, and Bruchesi, of Montreal. Bishops Currier of Havana, Da Silva of Portugal, N. A. Gallagher of Galveston, and Shahan of the Catholic university.

The annual report of Joseph F. president of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein, made public today, referred to "the swaying attitude of our government with respect to Mexico," and declared that "in the opinion of our best thinkers and leaders of so-called prosperity, chiefly due to traffic in munitions of war, will meet with an abrupt termination when peace shall have been established."

Washington, Aug. 20.—Adjournment of congress now waits only on the passage of the emergency revenue bill. Repassage of the army appropriation bill with amendments to meet President Wilson's veto, completion of the general deficiency appropriation measure and final action on a few conference reports, including the government spinning bill.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—Via Wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas News agency says an Italian newspaper has published a report that the English writer, Norman Angell, has been sentenced to eighteen months in prison for having taken part in the war. The report says Mr. Angell's plea that he had conscientious objections to the war was overruled by an English court.

Mr. Angell is the author of a number of works on war and diplomacy. He spent his youth in the United States and was in this country several weeks last year. He is best known for his advocacy of international peace.

Naco, Ariz., Aug. 20.—Over 100 shots were exchanged across the international line about a mile west of here last night between patrols belonging to the colored militia troops from the District of Columbia and a party on the Mexican side. The militiamen say that they challenged some Mexicans who attempted to cross. In answer the Mexicans fired. In the fusillade that followed one Mexican was wounded. He was captured.

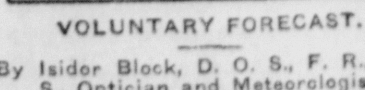

Montreal, Quebec, Aug. 20.—Eight persons were killed and more than a score injured in an explosion early today in a munitions plant at Drummondville. The cause of the disaster has not been determined.

Rome, Aug. 20.—The International Institute of Agriculture reports that with harvesting virtually completed in most European countries, indications are that the 1916 world's wheat supply will be almost 25 per cent less than last year's. It is pointed out, however, that 1915 was a bumper year and that the new crop is nearly up to the average between 1900 and 1913.

Beaumont, Aug. 10.—Lightning fired a 55,000 barrel tank of oil distillate belonging to the Magnolia company here today. Probably half of the contents will be saved by pumping. The total loss will be about $100,000. Other tanks are threatened, but 500 men are at work to prevent spread of the flames.

Gainesville, Texas, AUG. 20.—The 6-year-old daughter of George Sanders, farmer, residing six miles west of Gainesville, was accidentally shot and killed by her brother, aged 8, while playing with a shotgun this morning. The contents of the charge entered the back of the girl's head, tearing away a portion of the skull.

New York, Aug. 20.—Another substantial decrease in the number of deaths from infantile paralysis as the number of new cases strengthens belief that the epidemic is waning. There were only twenty deaths today and 108 new cases, the lowest figures for several weeks.

Baltimore, Aug. 20.—On the charge of sending a threatening post card to President Wilson, Theodore E. Jones, 65 years old, a tobacco salesman, who also claims to be a marine draughtman, was arrested at his home here today by postal authorities and held for a hearing. The postal in question never reached the president and read: "If you do not answer my letter you will regret it." It is alleged that Jones wrote to Secretary of the Navy Daniels and to the president frequently, claiming credit for naval inventions.

On Board U. S. S. Virginia. Some- where South of Newport, Aug. 19.— The first week of the John Paul Jones cruise for civilians on the reserve ships of the Atlantic fleet has seen adventure subside into work, at least it's that way on the Virginia, which carries 300 odd recruits who shipped at Boston.

At noon Tuesday the ship steamed in Newport, greeted three other battleships assembled there and after a stay of an hour headed toward Long Island.

Tuesday evening the Virginia cast anchor at the rendezvous in Gardiner bay, and the crew celebrated when bay, and the ship was in the water. It was passed that the ship was first of the reserve fleet.

Wednesday morning the real work

the big guns. Later there was bo drill and the crew were formed for practical and theoretical instruction.

A full crew among the civilians reported for each gun. Men were stationed in the shell room, at the lifts, lead, aim and fire the twelve-inch eight-inch guns.

Efficient demands that under war conditions they fire three shots a minute. It takes ten men to man a twelve inch gun from the shell men down to the pointer aloft. It takes the eight crew, just five minutes to "hold away" to "fire." Yet a train crew goes through it all in twenty seconds, shell after shell to the end.

It was a better lesson than any amount of preparedness talks on the necessity

R. L. HENRY DECLARES FORMER
SENATOR BAILEY SWITCHES
FROM CULBERSON TO COLQUITT
EXPECTING IN RETURN TO BE
MADE SENATOR IN 1918.

HENRY DECLARES FOR CULBERSON

Sees Texas Again Menaced With Troublesome Issue of Baileyism and
Is Surprised to Notice That Man
Still Allow Non-resident in Texas
Intrude Himself Into Texas Politics

Congressman Robert L. Henry yesterday announced his position in the senatorial contest in the following statement:

"Texas is again menaced with the troublesome issue of Baileyism. Riley is again endeavoring to thrust evil influence into Texas politics, it is strange that many good men allow this non-resident to obtrude himself into the political affairs of the State. In law, he is not eligible to any office in Texas. He resides in Wilmington, City, has a private residence there and is pursuing a private business at the national capital.

SWITCH FROM
CULBERSON TO COLQUITT.

As a sample of Mr. Bailey's political methods, observe his switch from Colburn to Colquitt. He used Colburn as a convenient subterfuge of quitting the person because he supported the general child labor bill, a specific reform demand; and yet it is known that he supported Charles Morris for error, who advocated national prohibition and national work suffrage. If he really is a "right states' rights" man, he cannot explain this conflict in voting and records.

"This recent shift proves to my mind that Bailey and Colquitt have combined for the purpose of making Colquitt senator this time, and in return Bailey shall be senator two years hence. The earmarks are plain to show that Bailey and Colquitt are working together.

"Bailey is a chronic critic of the derwood tariff law and Colquitt opposed to it. Colquitt is a genuine federal republican and Bailey is actually criticising it. Bailey has sympathy with the Clayton anti law and Colquitt has denounced a fare-faced fake." Colquitt proposed to the ship purchasers and the labor and the merchant navy and Bailey viciously assailed it. Bailey is opposed to the Alaskan rail bill and so is Colquitt. And so is thing done by this democratic administration, from the tariff and labor bill and the ship purchase measure, is criticised and opposed these two men. And they are fighting all the constructive legislation of the democratic party proposed by the president. Do they mean to fight with the president on principle? What right have they a stand-pat republican and the non-resident to control democratic primaries in Texas? And they mean to defend the democracy and their assaults.

HERE TO VOTE FOR CULBERSON.

"So you may say that I am running in Texas for the purpose of winning my vote for Culberson again. I quit. On next Saturday I shall poll the vote and vote for Culberson. I shall live the life of the democracy in Texas. The country at large is at stake. I shall contest and I shall stand with the party and our democratic platform. The Party is the only platform. I shall stand with the people. I shall defend them against the oppressors of our pledges."

E. G. SENTER MAKES STARTLING ADDRESS TO CULBERSON CLUB

GIVES EXCERPTS FROM "BREWERY SUITS" TENDING TO SHOW CONNECTION OF COLQUITT WITH ALLEGED POLITICAL ASSOCIATION.

Lorena, Aug. 20.—By invitation of the Culberson club, E. G. Senter spoke here last night and introduced some new issues into the senatorial contest. He said that the record in the brewery suits lately pending at Sulphur Springs had just been published in book form, comprising two volumes, and disclosed extraordinary conditions which the people of Texas ought to know. Quoting from these published volumes, he presented the following as a summary of what he claimed to be substantially undisputed facts:

1. That for more than fourteen years past the brewers of Texas, assisted by their national organization, have maintained a political organization in Texas which had, during that time, expended over $2,000,000 in the control of Texas elections, politics and politicians.

2. That this organization had spread its tentacles into every district and community in this state, had established a system of espionage over all public officials, and had assumed to choose all state and legislative officers, and many local officers.

3. That it had used its funds to defeat and its influence to boycott all public officials whom it could not absolutely control.

4. That one of its purposes has been to influence national legislation and affairs through the agency of senators and congressmen under its control. In support of this charge, Mr. Senter quoted from a letter written by Adolphus Busch to Zane Cetti, dated October 19th, 1905, and found on page 12, volume 1 of the printed record as follows: "It may cost us a million of dollars, and even more, but what if it if thereby we elevate our position? I stand ready to sacrifice my annual profits for years to come if I can gain my point and make people look upon beer in the right light. We must pay over to the United States Brewers' association whatever it may require to represent us properly before congress where we have most important bills to defend. We defeat that Hepburn-Dolliver bill, which is most dangerous and anti-alcoholic to our industry, and which makes prohibition possible. Then we want to defeat any bill which may be brought up to increase the revenue tax on beer with which we are now threatened; we want to re-establish the liquor canteen, and in all reciprocal treaties, we want our government to see that American beer enters foreign countries with a most reasonable duty, and not one which is prohibitive, as is the case in most of the republics of South America and in Australia, and as will be the case in all countries where breweries will be established unless we take an active interest in the matter and prevent this. We want further to see that no prohibition is enforced in the District of Columbia or elsewhere, when the latter is admitted to statehood."

5. That the entire record shows that Colquitt has been a political lieutenant and favorite of this organization; that its agents have gone about the state organizing clubs in his behalf and have been paid for that service out of its campaign funds; that one of the prime objects of the organization, as exhibited all through the printed record, has been to keep him in power, and that it has at all times preferred him above any opponent.

6. That the obligations of the organization to Colquitt were recognized in an offer to loan him $25,000 of the brewery campaign fund left over from the prohibition campaign of 1914, to set him up in lucrative business, and that Colquitt was himself a party to those negotiations, as shown by the testimony of Otto Wahrmond, found on page 180-182 of volume 1 of the printed record.

7. That these records justify the inference that Colquitt were in the senate he would oppose every measure that might be opposed by the brewers and support any measure which they might wish passed.

Mr. Senter said that Tammany in its worst days never ventured to nominate a man for high office whose record was as vulnerable as that of Colquitt, as exhibited in this transcript; that Cincinnati, when under the absolute control of the brewers, never chose a man for important office with such a record, and that even San Francisco, when everything was awry with free and easy, made a pretense of virtue which would have rendered Colquitt ineligible.

Russians Buy High-Grade Shoes. St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—A bill of shoes amounting to $105,800 was sold to representatives of Russia by a shoe company here recently. The company called attention to the fact that it was not a "war order" but consisted of high-grade shoes for men and boys in civil life. The sale was made in less than an hour.

The shoes were shipped to New York by express, and will go direct to some Russian port without a scheduled stop.

HAND GRENADES AND GAS MASKS AID RUSSIANS IN MEETING GERMAN ATTACK

Russian trenches prepared for German attack.

Warned that a gas cloud is approaching with the German infantry immediately after, the Russians entrenched near Auberville, Champagne, France, have seized their gas masks and hand grenades and are ready. The fixed bayonets and grenades means the immediate possibility of action. The picture shown herewith is remarkably clear and one of the best of its kind to reach America.

Write Your Story on "Reason Why" at Once

The opportunity to have a "bushel of fun" and at the same time be rewarded for your time and trouble in the News "Reason Why" contest will close today at 5 p. m. All replies must be received at the News office by that hour or be enclosed in a letter which bears a postmark showing that it was mailed before that hour.

The "Reason Why" contest is intensely interesting because it involves the analysis of the firms and products advertised last Wednesday and Thursday on the "Reason Why" page of the News.

Anyone who failed to see those ads should get busy at once and send their copy of the News of one of those dates. If you don't find one at home, you should come to the News office and get one.

The News will pay eleven cash prizes of one dollar each to the people who submit the best answers to the "Reason Why" editor. The answers must be of ten words or less. It is not necessary that you submit reasons for all of the ads—you can make a selection of just one or two if you prefer.

By all means get in the game and submit your answers before 5 p. m. Monday night. The answers will be judged and the winners announced in the News Wednesday, August 23. If you prefer, we will not announce your full name in the paper, but only your initials.

TRAVELING MEN'S COTTON PALACE DAY IS SELECTED

The second Saturday of the Cotton Palace will be a big day. It will undoubtedly be one of the most enjoyable days of the exposition. That day has been selected by the Texas Travelers' association as traveling men's day at the Cotton Palace.

This action was taken at the regular weekly meeting of the association at the Raleigh yesterday.

Jack Ray was named general chairman of the committee that will have charge of the arranging of programs and the work incident to making the day a great success.

The program committee will commence work at once on a program that will be replete with surprises of an entertaining and highly enjoyable nature for the thousands of knights of the grip who will be at the exposition on that day.

All of the men who travel out of Waco are highly enthusiastic over the prospects of having a big day of their own at the exposition, and they are doing everything in their power to make the day the greatest in the history of the Cotton Palace.

A general invitation will be extended to the traveling men in all parts of the state to be present on that day. While the details of the program have not been worked out as yet, it is understood that a monster street parade will be held during the day and that a big ball will be given at night.

The program will be so varied that a portion of it will necessarily have to be continued over into the following day.

The traveling men are noted all over the world for their hustling and entertaining ability, and the public at large will therefore look forward to a great day.

Freakish Phase of Tropical Storm Noted in This City

Dr. I. Block, voluntary weather observer, has been much interested in the capers of the tropical hurricane which swept Corpus Christi and some other coast towns Friday night, and thinks that this storm really made a new record in some ways.

For instance, instead of gaining force and intensity on coming inland, as these storms frequently do, this one almost played out by the time it reached Uvalde, and the barometer here at Waco and at many other places has been normal practically all the time, showing the very slightest effects of the storm.

Generally these storms sweep inland in a northwesterly course until they reach a point about 32 degrees north latitude, then begin to swing northeastward, frequently passing out through the Great Lakes region, but this one was a signal exception to the rule and appears to have expended itself after getting inland on the Texas coast.

E. G. SENTER MAKES STARTLING ADDRESS TO CULBERSON CLUB

GIVES EXCERPTS FROM "BREWERY SUITS" TENDING TO SHOW CONNECTION OF COLQUITT WITH ALLEGED POLITICAL ASSOCIATION.

Lorena, Aug. 20.—By invitation of the Culberson club, E. G. Senter spoke here last night and introduced some new issues into the senatorial contest. He said that the record in the brewery suits lately pending at Sulphur Springs had just been published in book form, comprising two volumes, and disclosed extraordinary conditions which the people of Texas ought to know. Quoting from these published volumes, he presented the following as a summary of what he claimed to be substantially undisputed facts:

1. That for more than fourteen years past the brewers of Texas, assisted by their national organization, have maintained a political organization in Texas which had, during that time, expended over $2,000,000 in the control of Texas elections, politics and politicians.

2. That this organization had spread its tentacles into every district and community in this state, had established a system of espionage over all public officials, and had assumed to choose all state and legislative officers, and many local officers.

3. That it had used its funds to defeat and its influence to boycott all public officials whom it could not absolutely control.

4. That one of its purposes has been to influence national legislation and affairs through the agency of senators and congressmen under its control. In support of this charge, Mr. Senter quoted from a letter written by Adolphus Busch to Zane Cetti, dated October 19th, 1905, and found on page 12, volume 1 of the printed record as follows: "It may cost us a million of dollars, and even more, but what of it if thereby we elevate our position? I stand ready to sacrifice my annual profits for years to come if I can gain my point and make people look upon beer in the right light. We must pay over to the United States Brewers' association whatever it may require to represent us properly before congressional bills to defend. We defeat that Hepburn-Dolliver bill, which is most dangerous and antagonistic to our industry, and which makes prohibition possible. Then we want to defeat any bill which may be brought up to increase the revenue tax on beer with which we are now threatened; we want to re-establish the military canteen at all army posts and on our men of war; and in all that we want to see that American beer enters foreign countries with a moderate and reasonable duty, and not one which is prohibitive, as is the case in most of the republics of South America and in Australia, and as will be the case in all countries where breweries will be established unless we take an active interest in the matter and prevent this. We want further to see that the prohibition is enforced in the District of Columbia or embodied in the constitution of Oklahoma, when the latter is admitted to statehood."

5. That the entire record shows that Colquitt has been a political lieutenant and favorite of this organization; that its agents have gone about the state organizing clubs in his behalf and have been paid for that service out of its campaign funds; that one of the prime objects of the organization as exhibited all through the printed record, has been to keep him in power, and that it has at all times preferred him above any opponent.

6. That the obligations of the organization to loan him $25,000 of the brewery campaign fund left over from the prohibition campaign of 1914, to set him up in lucrative business, and that Colquitt was himself a party to those negotiations, as shown by the testimony of Otto Wahrmond, found on page 180-182 of volume 1 of the printed record.

7. That these records justify the inference that if Colquitt were in the senate he would be every measure that might be opposed by the brewers and support any measure which they might wish passed.

Mr. Senter said that Tammany in its worst days never ventured to nominate a man for high office whose record was as vulnerable as that of Colquitt, as exhibited in this transcript; that Cincinnati, when under the absolute control of the brewers, never chose a man for important office with such a record, and that even San Francisco, when everything was awfully free and easy, made a pretense of virtue which would have rendered Colquitt ineligible.

Russians Buy High-Grade Shoes. St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—A bill of shoes amounting to $105,800 was sold to representatives of Russia by a shoe company here recently. The company called attention to the fact that it was not a "war shoe" but consisted of high-grade shoes for men and boys in civil life. The sale was made in less than an hour.

The shoes were shipped to New York by express and will go direct to some Russian port without a scheduled stop.

HAND GRENADES AND GAS MASKS AID RUSSIANS IN MEETING GERMAN ATTACK

Russian trenches prepared for German attack.

Warned that a gas cloud is approaching with the German infantry immediately after, the Russians entrenched near Auberville, Champagne, France, have seized their gas masks and hand grenades and are ready. The fixed bayonets and grenades means the immediate possibility of action. The picture shown herewith is remarkably clear and one of the best of its kind to reach America.

Write Your Story on "Reason Why" at Once

The opportunity to have a "bushel of fun" and at the same time be rewarded for your time and trouble in the "Reason Why" contest will close today at 5 p. m. All replies must be received at the News office by that hour or be enclosed in a letter which bears a postmark showing that it was mailed before that hour.

The "Reason Why" contest is intensely interesting because it involves the analysis of the firms and products advertised last Wednesday and Thursday on the "Reason Why" page of the News.

Anyone who failed to see those ads should get busy at once and get a copy of the News of one of those dates. If you don't find one at home, you should come to the News office and get one. The News will pay eleven cash prizes of one dollar each to the people who submit the best answers to the "Reason Why" editor. The answers must be of ten words or less. It is not necessary that you submit reasons for all of the ads—you can make a selection of just one or two if you prefer.

By all means get in the game and submit your answers before 5 p. m. Monday night. The answers will be judged and the winners announced in the News Wednesday, August 23. If you prefer, we will not announce your full name in the paper, but only your initials.

CRISIS IN GREAT RAILROAD STRIKE SITUATION IS NEAR

principle of arbitration. It stridently, it rather. It proposes that nothing be conceded except the eight-hour day to which the whole economic movement of the time seems to point, and determining all the arbitrable elements in this case in the light, not of predictions or forecasts, but of established and ascertained facts. This is the first stage of the direct road to the discovery of the best permanent basis for arbitration where other means than those now available are supplied.

OTHER PRESIDENTS ARRIVE TODAY

There were no outward developments pending arrival of the additional railroad executives to whom the president sent invitations yesterday. Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, and several other western railroad presidents will arrive tomorrow morning, and others are expected tonight. Representatives of both sides are prepared to remain here until a final word is spoken and a strike declared or averted.

President Wilson made no engagements for tomorrow in order to be ready to continue negotiations through railway presidents, but it was thought that the president would have no further general white house conferences until Tuesday.

COUNTER PROPOSAL IS CONSIDERED

It was understood tonight that a counter proposal to the president's plan was under consideration by the railroad executives. It was said to include arbitration of at least some of the points at issue, with the granting of others.

In the meantime telegrams urging the president to insist on arbitration arrived in large numbers at the white house. Administration officials said the telegrams would have no effect on the president, since he had tried to bring about arbitrations and had failed, and had no way of forcing it. The brotherhood members will meet at the president's house tomorrow, but their hall tomorrow at 10 o'clock, and they probably will have nothing before them.

Damage at St. Joseph's Island was estimated at $150,000, the greatest loss being in the destruction of the First National bank.

DALLAS PARTY TWO DAYS IN OPEN SEA.

After spending two days in the open sea in a small launch, Louis Blaylock of Dallas, former city commissioner, and a party of Methodist ministers, landed at Aransas Pass today and were to be brought here tonight.

State Railroad Commissioner Allison Mayfield and Judge William Capps of Fort Worth, who were fishing when the storm broke, have reached Rockport safely, according to word here.

Partial communication with the outside world was restored to Corpus Christi this afternoon after having been out since early Friday. Railroad traffic is being restored.

A relief boat left here this afternoon for Padre Island, where a small number of persons reside on ranches. McLean fishermen arriving here today said hundreds of cattle had been killed, a number of buildings demolished, but there had been no loss of life. The inhabitants were without food, they said.

More reports from sparsely populated sections south of Kingsville tonight said there was some little damage at Norias, a cattle shipping section on the King ranch.

Only Six Die on Pilot Boy. San Antonio, Aug. 20.—A wireless report to Fort Sam Houston from Point Isabel shortly before midnight says that only six members of the crew of the steamer Pilot Boy were lost when the freighter sank four miles off Port Aransas Friday morning. Names given in the message are:

Martin, Schebergson, Olson, Hanser, Logan.

The cook, name unknown, also was drowned. This reduces the total death list in the storm to thirteen.

Woman 104 Years Old Killed. San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 20.—At La Porta, just southeast of Alice, as a result of Friday's hurricane, a Mexican woman, aged 104, was killed when her home was demolished. Her aged husband died Saturday from injuries received at the same time.

TRAVELING MEN'S COTTON PALACE DAY IS SELECTED

The second Saturday of the Cotton Palace will be a big day. It will undoubtedly be one of the most enjoyable days of the exposition. That day has been selected by the Texas Travelers' association as traveling men's day at the Cotton Palace.

This action was taken at the regular weekly meeting of the association at the Raleigh yesterday.

Jack Ray was named general chairman of the committees that will have charge of the arranging of programs and the work incident to making the day a great success.

The program committee will commence work at once on a program that will be replete with surprises of an entertaining and highly enjoyable nature for the thousands of knights of the grip who will be at the exposition on that day.

All of the men who travel out of Waco are highly enthusiastic over the prospects of having a big day of their own at the exposition, and they are doing everything in their power to make the day the greatest in the history of the Cotton Palace.

A general invitation will be extended to the traveling men in all parts of the state to be present on that day. While the details of the program have not been worked out as yet, it is understood that a monster street parade will be held during the day and that a big ball will be given at night.

The program will be so varied that a portion of it will necessarily have to be continued over into the following day.

The traveling men are noted all over the world for their hustling and entertaining ability, and the public at large will therefore look forward to a great day.

Freakish Phase of Tropical Storm Noted in This City

Dr. I. Block, voluntary weather observer, has been much interested in the capers of the tropical hurricane which swept Corpus Christi and some other coast towns Friday night, and thinks that this storm really made a new record in some ways.

For instance, instead of gaining force and intensity on coming inland, as these storms frequently do, this one almost played out by the time it reached Uvalde, and the barometer here at Waco and at many other places has been normal practically all the time, showing the very slightest effects of the storm. Generally these storms sweep inland in a northwesterly course from the Gulf of Mexico, and then begin to blow out through the Great Lakes region, but this one was a signal exception to the rule and appears to have expended its force after getting inland on the Texas coast.

Cart Own Ice When Drivers Go on Strike

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 20.—Consumers either carted their supply of ice from factories or distributing stations here or went without, as a result of a strike of union ice wagon drivers and helpers whose demands for increased wages and a shorter working day were refused. The union leaders declared about 200 men obeyed the strike order. Managers of the several distributing companies tonight were making plans to resume making deliveries under police protection. There was no disorder today.

Buyers of Cotton Contract Ahead for Many Supplies

New York, Aug. 20.—Anticipation of a high cotton market has been leading buyers of cotton goods to contract ahead for many of the supplies they will require. Prices of bleached and Brown cottons are rising, advances on standard 4-4 jobbing bleached fabrics being fully  $\frac{1}{2}$  a yard. Print cloths are up  $\frac{1}{4}$  a yard in some of the finer counts.

Reports from mill centers show that the labor scarcity is serious and continues to restrict output.

Prices quoted at the end of the week were as follows:

Print cloths, 28-inch 64x64s 4½¢, 64-60s 4½¢; 38½-inch, 64-64s, 6¢; brown sheetings, southern standards 8½¢, denims 22¢, indigo 18¢, tickings 8½¢, denims 15¢; prints 7¢, staple ginghams 8¢, dress ginghams 10½¢.

A SOLDIER'S LOVE LETTER.

Y. M. C. A. Secretary, Writing for an Illiterate, Used Discretion. (London Telegraph.)

Among the duties incumbent upon the Y. M. C. A. workers in France is the writing of letters for soldiers who cannot read or write. N. Berry, an experienced secretary, has discovered several men who escaped attendance at school and are less proficient at reading and writing than the lowest classes of children in the elementary schools. Quite a decent lad from an agricultural county came to him recently and asked if he would write home to Mary, his sweetheart. The soldier had wanted to send kisses to "Bob, Anne, Sarah and George," as well as to his sweetheart; but Mr. Berry saw danger, for Mary would have only shared the same sort of kisses as Bob, Anne, Sarah and George. "Let me put some bigger crosses for Mary on the other side," at length persuaded Mr. Berry. This immediately took his fancy, and he wrote a letter to Mary, all to herself. Mr. Berry had, of course, to read her reply, and she seemed very pleased by the receipt of her letter.

EDITOR FLEES FROM CANADA.

Declaring that Canada owes nothing more to Britain and that "a few little islands that cannot feed themselves can never be the world center," N. Smith, former member of the Ontario provincial parliament and editor of the "Daily Express," said that he would fight the Canadian authorities for suppressing his paper. Smith is virtually a refugee from Canada because of an editorial published recently entitled "No More Canadian Soldiers for Overseas Service—This Young Dominion Has Sacrificed Enough," which resulted in a suppression of the paper.

Canadian soldiers have made repeated threats against Smith and his paper, and were frustrated in an attempt to wreck the plant by the intervention of police and their superior officers.

Thrilling Incidents Attend Sensational Fighting From the Ancre to the Somme

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 19.—Via London, Aug. 20.—What two battalions did and how they did it was the most thrilling incident of the last twenty-four hours of sensational fighting from the Ancre to the Somme. The struggle went on in freakish August weather, with alternate cloudbursts and flashes of lightning, rainbows and sunshine.

Along the line from the south of the Ancre the British left their British trenches while the French were hard at it on their right. The time chosen was because the weather was good. Big attacks of July 1 and 14 were the early morning. Two battalions were on the left with more guns to help them, probably, than any two battalions that ever made a charge. One hundred cannon were engaged in making a curtain of fire on their front.

Others were busy with other details of the staff. Nothing in the whole defense was so dramatically staged or came off with greater success. The Germans still held on. They had taken an orchard west of Delvaux, and the hottest work probably was to the right. Here, after a hand-to-hand argument which lasted many hours, the British took and kept Guillemant.

South of Guillemant, the Germans took cover in a ravine. They debouched under protection of their artillery, and forced the British to yield some of the ground taken.

BRITISH LINE ANGLE GROWS SHARPER AND SHARPER.

Sharper and sharper grew the angle of the new British line to the old German first line, until on the map it looked impossible for troops to survive in such a salient. Nevertheless, the Germans stuck to those elaborate defenses of nearly two years' preparation with dugouts thirty or forty feet under ground.

Through galleries running from dugout to dugout the Germans had a subway for bringing up relief and food. They led a regular life. At night those not on guard went to bed in their cellar bunk as comfortably as in Pullmans, and during the day they played cards when not sent out into the shell craters to snipe the Britishers. They had too many guns for the British to attempt to rush their homes.

Yesterday the British guns were pounding away as usual at this sector which is called the Leicpe redoubt, when the British, thanks to a new system for taking care of machine guns and a quick burst of artillery preparation, covering their charge, appeared on the jump through the doors of their dugouts.

Through galleries they were visible to observers running about maze traverses like terrors searching for rat holes, their bayonets gleaming and puffs of smoke arising as they threw their bombs.

In one capacious dugout equipped with beds, tables and cupboards, six officers and 170 men surrendered in a body and were marched out after the manner of a crowd caught in a gambling house raided by the police. Some escaped from their dugouts by underground galleries. Others who could not escape, though surrounded, tried to man their machine guns and were shot down. Still others fought to the death with bayonets and bombs. It is estimated that 2000 Germans caught in this trap by less than their own numbers were accounted for.

PRISONERS ARE UNEARTHED.

When the Associated Press correspondent left corps headquarters, twelve officers and 600 Germans had been brought in as prisoners, while more were being unearthed from their hiding places.

In the center, the British have pushed closer to Martin, Pulch and have taken an orchard west of Delvaux, and the hottest work probably was to the right. Here, after a hand-to-hand argument which lasted many hours, the British took and kept Guillemant.

South of Guillemant, the Germans took cover in a ravine. They debouched under protection of their artillery, and forced the British to yield some of the ground taken.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—Charles E. Hughes spent a strenuous day of rest today. He reached Los Angeles shortly before 10 o'clock from San Francisco, went to church, held a public reception at his hotel and took a 100-mile motor drive, visiting Pasadena and Long Beach. He stopped at the Los Angeles museum on the way back.

At Long Beach Mr. Hughes spent half an hour in the hotel at which Governor Johnson was visiting, but did not meet him.

"The paramount issue of the state good roads convention in San Antonio was the matter of getting the legislature to create a state highway commission, and steps were taken to bring this about, Judge Denton being a member of the legislative committee," said C. R. Battle, who was one of the attendants on the convention. Continuing, he said:

All the speakers advocated this plan and some do not know that in order to avail ourselves of any of the federal appropriation it will be necessary to have this commission.

"There also was much discussion of the matter of maintaining roads after they are built, and the address of County Engineer R. J. Windrow of McLennan county on this subject brought him the greatest honor and prestige that was in the gift of the convention, and justly so.

"We found the roads from here to San Antonio good and made the trip going and coming in about twelve hours each way; my wife was with me and we were pleased with the roads. Recruiting Officers Work Waco, Hillsboro, Itasca and Hubbard for Dilatory Members.

Capt. Charles F. Anderson of the local Texas guard recruiting station returned yesterday afternoon from Hillsboro, where he had been for the purpose of enlisting into service thirty-two of the Hillsboro company who had reported for duty. Sergeant S. C. Moore and Private Wilmer Chastain had been in the Hillsboro company several days for the purpose of getting the men together, and on Captain Anderson's arrival had six men—all who could be found of the thirty-two—in readiness for business. The company had been found at Itasca. Of the six found two were sent to their companies at Fort Sam Houston, while four have applied for discharges, which will be recommended by Captain Anderson.

Itasca will become a substation, if the local captain's wishes are granted. In such case the Itasca men, who are members of the Hillsboro company, will be called on by the recruiting officers of Waco station to "fill in."

Officers of the local recruiting station leave this morning for a visit to Hubbard to enlist a corps of hospital men, who have thus far failed to report for duty. This is a small number of men and it is believed that the men will be enlisted immediately and the work completed.

This is the work following an order received here some time ago for the enlisted men to report for duty or get off the muster rolls. The Waco roll was first cleaned up, and then the efforts were centered on the substation. The movement is statewide in its scope, the purpose of it being to rid the rolls of all men who for any reason are unable to serve in the ranks.

Man Found Lying Down Behind Church

Lying at the rear of the old Presbyterian church on Austin street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, in a half dazed and wholly hysterical condition, Preston Taylor, a moving picture show operator, was found yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and was taken to the city hall by Detective F. A. Craven.

Taylor was cared for awhile at the city hall as he appeared to have been doped in some manner. The officers state that he said to them that he was troubled over a disagreement of some kind with his wife and did not care whether he lived or died, and that he had taken a big dose of a headache medicine which is supposed to be dangerous when taken in large quantities. After staying at the city hall for awhile and growing more calm, Taylor was allowed to go on his way.

When the city hall ambulance first went to the place where Taylor was found it was rumored that some man had been found dead or about dead from poisoning, and quite a crowd collected.

Waco Man Hunts
Eagles in an Auto
in Wyoming Wilds

Hunting eagles in an automobile is the latest sporting stunt of a Waco man. Dr. H. A. Long, who is making a two months' tour of Colorado and Wyoming in his machine, had the novel experience recently of successfully bringing three eagles to earth about fifty miles north of Cheyenne in Wyoming.

Dr. Long describes the experiences as the most exciting and unusual during his hunting career. The largest eagle measured eight feet and seven inches from tip to tip. The smallest one measured six feet and nine inches. Both birds were shot while the machine was going at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. Mrs. Long runs the machine while the doctor spots and shoots the game.

Dr. Long says that game of all kinds is unusually plentiful all through the state of Wyoming and that he has bagged many other birds besides the eagles.

His party will spend several weeks at Denver and Colorado Springs. They will return to Waco about September 10.

Builders' Exchange

At this meeting there will be a discussion of the proposition of employing a secretary for the exchange, a plan which has been successfully tried in other large cities in the state. It is believed that this can be done in Waco and thus the organization can accomplish more.

The builders of the city believe that an era of great activity is just ahead, and want to organize and be ready for it.

The Shaffer-Neal company, operating a dry cleaning plant, has been purchased by V. F. Girardy and associates. The name of the company will be changed to The Waco Dry Cleaners.

Mr. Hugh Allen, formerly with the Shaffer-Neal company, will continue to manage the business and will be pleased to welcome his many friends.

The plant will be overhauled, and new machinery installed. The cleaning department will be in the hands of an expert cleaner from the East.

Our motto will be "Nothing too good for our customers." We not only promise to turn out the best work, but will always do it promptly and make old garments look like new. We will call for and deliver same to any part of the city.

In addition to men's garments we will specialize in women's wearing apparel, household furnishings, rugs, curtains, woolen blankets, etc.

The new management wishes to keep its business entirely separate from the old business and a new set of books will be opened.

A list of all accounts due the Shaffer-Neal company will be left with Mr. Allen at the plant and at the Waco State bank, where debtors can call and pay.

The creditors of the Shaffer-Neal company are requested to file itemized statements of their accounts with Mr. Allen at the plant and when checked up will be paid.

J. W. Evans, division superintendent of the M., K. & T. railway, has just completed a tour of inspection over the Texas Central district of that system.

When asked what the crop outlook was in that territory, Mr. Evans made the following statement:

"Cotton, corn and oats from Waco to Walnut Springs very good. Very few weevils in cotton; however, needing rain badly. The territory between Walnut Springs and Cisco has diversified this year and are planting peanuts, kaffir corn, maize and feterita. The cottonseed products between Cisco and Rotan will not be as heavy as last year, on account of the drought. Farmers are very discouraged, but if they have a rain soon, the cotton will do better than anticipated.

"We hauled in 1915, 136,845 bales of cotton. So far this year we have ginned quite a number of new bales of cotton from the different territories. 77,654 bales of this cotton was loaded at stations on the Texas Central district between Waco, Rotan and Cross Plains; 59,191 bales were received from connecting lines and nearby inland towns. The peanut crop for 1915 amounted to 1,004 cars, 100 cars of peanut hay and 300 cars of fed hogs; a total of 1,404 cars of this product.

"We have also handled this year, 1916, 542 cars of oil from the Moran oil field.

"The peanut acreage planted will double last year's figures. This commodity is in very good shape; planted in sand soil territory and seemingly has plenty of moisture so far. We should handle this year in the neighborhood of 1,800 cars of peanuts alone. Last year we handled 4,400 cars of grain over the Texas Central district, 2,400 cars of which were from the Texas Central district alone. This year, 1916, so far, we have handled 808 cars of grain.

"The watermelon and fruit crop will be cut short on account of the drought. Rising Star also fell short on cantaloupes and other fruit shipments on account of the drought. However, we have handled several cars.

"There is quite a great deal of stock being moved from the western territory on account of the shortage of water; some going to Fort Worth, and other to other grazing territories where they have running streams furnishing the stock plenty of water.

"From my conversation with the business people of the small towns, they seem to feel very much encouraged, as most of them are diversifying in order to produce other commodities of freight where cotton has been taken by the boll weevil."

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

Next Sunday is missionary day in the Austin Avenue Methodist Sunday school, and a real missionary, attired in the costume of the women among whom she works, will be present. Also there will be other interesting features for the occasion.

A big lot of cotton doubtless will roll into Waco this week, ditto cottonseed. Farmers are straining every nerve to get their cotton out fearing another tropical storm, and this menace is one which cuts quite a figure in farming operations now. The price is bringing it to market rapidly.

Interest is keen in the run-off senatorial primary next Saturday, and many are now predicting a rather larger vote than was at first expected, unless the gathering of crops should keep the farmers away from the polls. The contest has been waxing warmer in the last ten days, and is expected to become even more pronounced this week.

The Waco bakers are just watching and waiting to see how the price of flour is going to behave. If it goes up sharply again, and looks like it is going to stay up, then good-bye to the loaf. On the other hand, if it is declared an exclusive it will cause hundreds of housewives to do their own baking. This remains to be seen, in case the loaf does come.

Notice

The Shaffer-Neal company, operating a dry cleaning plant, has been purchased by V. P. Girard and associates. The name of the company will be changed to The Waco Dry Cleaners.

Mr. Hugh Allen, formerly with the Shaffer-Neal company, will continue to manage the business and will be pleased to welcome his many friends.

The plant will be overhauled, and new machinery installed. The cleaning department will be in the hands of an expert cleaner from the East.

Our motto will be "Nothing too good for our customers." We not only promise to turn out the best work, but will always do it promptly and make our garments look like new. We will call for and deliver same to any part of the city.

In addition to men's garments we will specialize in women's wearing apparel, household furnishings, rugs, curtains, woolen furnishings, etc.

The new management wishes to keep its business entirely separate from the old business and a new set of books will be opened.

A list of all accounts due the Shaffer-Neal company will be left with Mr. Allen at the plant and at the Waco State bank, where debtors can call and pay.

The creditors of the Shaffer-Neal company are requested to file itemized statements of their accounts with Mr. Allen at the plant and when checked up will be paid.

Lorena Road People Dim Their Lights

"I think the people on the Lorena good road should be specially commended for the manner in which they observe the precautions as to dimming lights on the approach of another car." Dr. J. P. Smartt is president of the association, and it is thought that many of the members in the district will attend the Waco meeting. The program which is being made ready is a most interesting one.

"I was out on the road to the Waco Boating and Fishing club the other night, however, and found quite a different condition, as there they did not take that sensible precaution. It ought to be generally observed, and I believe it will be as people come more to understand its advantages."

HOW DOES THE BEAUMONT
SENATOR VOTE?

According to the tabulated vote published in the Houston Chronicle of Sunday, submission won in the July primary in eighty-six legislative districts, giving four more than a two-thirds majority in such districts. In the senate, it won in twenty districts and lost in eleven districts, lacking one of two-thirds of such districts.

The returns for the Beaumont district, as shown by the press reports, gave it to submission. The count finally made gave a majority of seventy-eight against submission. The senator from that district is a hold-over.

The reason for the proceedings of the Houston convention will soon clearly appear to the public.

There is but one way to take the will of the people upon any question and that is prescribed by law. The people of Texas, as a whole, have called for the submission to them of a constitutional amendment on the subject of prohibition. It is now recognized to be their right to pass upon any question which they may choose to bring under their supreme power.

Whenever a small minority (as of seventy-eight voters in one corner of the state) may deny all the people of the state the right to vote upon any question, we shall cease to have a democracy and will be under a bureaucracy. If you want to know just what sort of a machine it would be, read the two volumes of testimony brought out in the brewers' suit at Sulphur Springs, which have just been published. Then you will better understand the secret agencies which now assume to control affairs in Texas, and the means they employ to control them.

The editor of The News did not "denounce" Cleveland, as alleged by the Fort Worth Record. It opposed his renomination in 1892, as did most of the people of Texas, and when he was nominated gave him a cheerful support. The editor of The News is yet to record a prediction that the democratic regime is about to end, and when he feels that way about it, he would be ashamed to seek honors at the party's hands. The editor of The News has never yet talked on one side and voted on the other. This much because of the Colquittian scheme to justify his course through comparison. There is nothing in Texas history which can be used as a precedent. Colquittianism is a new political invention, and it is a safe prediction that it will soon fall into innocuous desuetude.

The big drive of the allies has been extended to the Balkans, and the fighting is on along the entire Saloniki front. This means that at this moment war is doing the worst work that has done since time began. From the Somme to the far east, the cannon roars, and slaughter of thousands is a daily pastime. Industry is palsied, and the accretions of centuries are destroyed as so much chaff. Only one spot in the universe is making a genuine stand for peace, and but for Woodrow Wilson that would probably now be embroiled in war with at least two countries.

Leslie's Weekly has long been organ-in-chief for the republican reactionaries, and is now whooping things up for Hughes. It says: "Texas is getting tired of the trust busters, as everybody else is. In its recent primary election for member of the United States senate, we note that ex-Governor Colquitt, outstripped all competitors. It is he who recently declared against the anti-trust laws of the present administration as 'barefaced fakes so far as protecting the people from trust oppression is concerned.'"

Suppose Mr. Rolquitt, a candidate for the reichstag in Berlin, had been detected in secret correspondence with Mr. Robie, who was in charge of an American propaganda, and had promised Robie that if he would help along the political ambitions of Rolquitt that Rolquitt would vote right when he got to the reichstag. Would Rolquitt still be running for the reichstag? Nay, verily.

Consternation reigned at Camp Tynar, near Fort Worth, where 100 Texas girls are taking war lessons, because of the announcement of a rule that no boy will be permitted about the camp on Sunday. What's the use of military instructions for a girl except to teach her how to command a boy?

Next Saturday will demonstrate the force of Lincoln's pungent remark that "you may fool all the people half the time and fool half the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

A SHOULDER BLOW.

Congressman Henry makes very plain his position in the senatorial contest. He characterizes the course of Colquitt as that of a "standpat republican," and says he is remaining in Texas for the purpose of casting his vote for Culberson.

Mr. Henry makes some pungent comments on the shift of Bailey from Culberson to Colquitt that hit the bullseye right in the middle. He calls attention to the inconsistency of Bailey in supporting Morris, who declared for national prohibition and national woman suffrage, and in opposing Culberson because he voted for the federal child labor law, which involves a much less important exercise of federal jurisdiction than the first two proposals.

The conclusion which Mr. Henry draws that Bailey and Colquitt have combined to try to elect Colquitt now and Bailey two years hence is unavoidable. In that view, the primary to be held next Saturday takes on a significance which goes far beyond the immediate result.

The truth is we have come to the point in Texas where we must decide whether the democratic party shall be delivered over to its avowed enemies, who would, if they could, put an end to it, and make the election of Hughes unanimous, or whether it will shake off its poisonous clutch and stand forth a vigorous exponent of democratic policies and clean politics.

Colquittism is coming to have a definite meaning, and it is far removed from anything that savors of democracy.

The president has used all means at his command to avert a strike of railroad employees, and the question is now up to the managers. If they accept the eight-hour day, other issues will be arbitrated. If they refuse that, a strike will be declared at once. Today will probably tell the story.

There is some danger that Hughes will relapse into a joke, unless he discovers pretty soon that he is running for the presidency of the United States, not for the presidency of the Chinook Fishing club.

Waco joins heartily in response to the call for help from Buckner Orphan's Home. When Humanity voices its urgent need in a cry of distress, that call is paramount.

Hughes has put his foot in his mouth so often since he went west that he is beginning to talk disragy.

Editorial Round-Up

"Pray Before Being Married." Here is a Russian proverb that might be made good use of. It certainly would dispel a multitude of sorrows, especially the last one, which would prevent many hasty marriages and relieve the courts of many divorces. It takes matrimony out of the pale of whims and makes a divine consideration of it. The proverb runs this way:

"If you go to war, pray; if you go on a sea journey, pray twice; but pray three times if you are going to be married."

Good advice, all of it. There is too much that is hysterical in the matrimonial venture, and a little praying will tend to relieve the mind.—Ohio State Journal.

Fall Grain Needed. Hunt county from year to year is losing large profits through the neglect of planting cover crops, wheat, oats, rye, etc. This loss comes about in this way: The loss of the nutrient which is needed for the future. The loss of the nutrient which would be put into the soil by the growing crops. This fall should see the greatest acreage of grain in the history of the county. If next spring it is found that it is not desirable to mature the crops, the land can be planted to corn or other crops, there having been enough gained from the crop to more than pay the expenses of breaking the land, grazing and otherwise already secured.—Greenville Banner.

In Which Class is Waco?

S. C. Killen, editor and publisher of the Hillsboro (Ore.) Independent, recently invited to address the University of Oregon school of Journalism, said among other things: "Judging from my experience I believe there is a broader viewpoint and more general information among the people up on the farms and in the small towns than in the cities. The crop of the provincial is found in the large cities of the east." It is neither fair nor safe to generalize on a subject of this kind. It can be said within reason, however, that to find genuine provincialism one must seek it among the class represented by the city person or the city newspaper that speaks of the small-town man or farmer as a "hick" or a "jay."—Christian Science Monitor.

Great masters have painted golden sunsets, forests, streams and lake scenes. They have put upon canvas the glow of youth, the charm of beauty and the spell of twilight. Artists have transferred to cloth with pigments the perfect shoulder's curve, the brim of the hat, the crimson lip and the dimpled arm. They have caught the gleam of the rising moon upon the bosom of a limpid pool, and have painted fruit so natural that insects have been fooled by the magic of the art.

But of all the pictures since the world was first bound in space, the most beautiful is the picture of a little child, crined from the croon of his mother's arms, his head close to her, their arms around each other's shoulders, watching their little love token coo and gurgle as he tries to catch in his tiny fingers the golden strands of his mother's hair. It is satisfying, for it is the beginning and the end of all things, the token and the promise, the fulfillment and the pledge, the little dimpled darling, pure like the dewdrop in the heart of a perfect rose, God has sanctified love, has shown His power over life and death, and shadowed forth the glories of immortality.

Besides the joys that come to loving hearts, wed after God's holy ordinances, hearts thrilled with the exquisite rhapsody of parenthood, bending over their wondrous babe, there is nothing else in all the wide, wide world that satisfies half so well. Wedded life and the home, where the prattle of little children is heard above the house, where Hope dwells and Faith abides, side by side with pure Affection, is the one thing to be desired above all things else in this life.—Clebune Enterprise.

Peace Not in Sight.

The war is not over. Predictions of the time of its end are but speculations. Nevertheless, it is tolerably plain that it can have but one end. The allies are too much for Germany. The Kaiser has put up the most wonderful fight the world has known, but the odds are too much against him. This must be admitted even by the German sympathizers. But it does not follow that Germany will be permanently crippled or long impeded in re-establishing the nation's industries. The German people are resourceful, persistent, undaunted. No matter how much of a burden is left upon them, they will accept it with courage and fortitude, and they will overcome the lull in time. Nor is it unreasonable to hope that out of this Titanic and seemingly blind struggle may come a better understanding in Europe and the world over that will make for a broader humanity.—Washington (Ind.) Journal.

Our "Mob Democracy"—File on it!

"We have changed our government," says a recent bulletin of that Los Angeles bank which was quoted in the Los Angeles Times. The Bulletin, in the twinkling of an eye to a mob democracy. Its workings have not been successful.

"Mob" has two principal meanings. In one sense it is, as the dictionary puts it, "a lawless or turbulent crowd." In the other it is "the lower orders of people; the masses." As an electorate, voting according to the form of law, is obviously not lawless, and as the California electorate has not recently been turbulent "mob" in the phrase quoted must have the second meaning.

Democracy is derived from two Greek roots, meaning people's power or rule by the people or masses. So there is no democracy that is not "mob" in the sense of the writer of the Farmers and Merchants' National bank bulletin actually meant was that California had changed from a government that was not democratic to a mob government. This was hardly one that was democracy. That is the issue at present. Governor Johnson represents democracy, or rule by the people, and his opponents represent mob rule by the few.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Blazing the Way.

Finding one's way along the unknown road with the help of a map or tour guide is very much easier than the old-fashioned method of asking for guidance at farm houses every few miles. But it is not so easy as it seems. A well-kept road, and the Daughters of the American Revolution have accordingly marked one magnificent Texas thoroughfare, the Highway, which will be a help to other through routes should be so indicated.

In Massachusetts roads are marked by painting bands on the poles and bridges along the way.

The cities, and the fact that white borders are used for routes running north and south, red bands for east and west, and yellow bands for the others.

Right here we would make a plea for better marking of Beaumont streets. A stranger finding his way through this city needs much more of police-men or pedestrians, friendly or not, than he does in the fact that Beaumont streets do not run exactly north and south and east and west is also extremely confusing at times.

Many of the street signs have been torn down, and if these were replaced with permanent markings, it would be another step toward making the city attractive to strangers.—Beaumont Journal.

OH, YOU DOCTORS!

The Indiana Medical Journal, the official organ of the "ethical" element of Indiana physicians, remarks editorially that:

"It is a little amusing to note how quickly a 'dying man' recovers after he is released from the penitentiary. Many will remember how the tough and hardened persons said that there was a crime to keep Charles W. Morse in the federal prison when at the point of death from an incurable affliction. As a result of a pardon, of course, a common felon, guilty perhaps, of stealing a pig to furnish food to a starving family, could die in prison without a word of sympathy. The man who wrecks the lives of countless people must be shown leniency. But the joke of the Morse case is that Morse quickly recovered from the federal prison, and is now a leader in large financial transactions. This only goes to show that men do not always get their just deserts. Some get too much of a good thing, while others do not get enough."

It is also a "little amusing" to note that this same Morse incident furnishes us with convincing evidence of the fallibility of ethical medicine. Yet it is recalled that Mr. Morse was not released from prison by President Taft until after a number of eminent physicians had examined him and had declared that he was dying. The doctor of the federal prison having passed this judgment, two distinguished specialists were sent by President Taft to examine the man, and the doctor of the prison, in the previous report, Morse was a dying man they were all agreed, so President Taft released him to go home where he would be convenient to the cemetery after his death.

Now these doctors all stood high in their profession. They were all ethical, too, so very ethical in fact that they wouldn't even drink Peruna until they had been poured into the regular whiskey bottle. They were distinguished does, every mother's son of them, and they were essentially honest, also. They were above bribery or the suspicion of bribery. Yet they all died within a few weeks. They were simply mistaken, honestly mistaken, no doubt, but nevertheless mistaken.

In this connection, we cannot help speculating as to what would have been said by the ethical element of the fraternity in general and by those members of it in particular had Mr. Morse been released upon the solemn declaration of a lot of advertising doctors that he was a dying man. The News, although not particularly prudish, almost blushes to think of language so unseemly.—Fort Wayne (Ind.) News.

Anyone having news matter or items of interest will please phone them in to Mr. Fain by 4 o'clock each day.

The Waco Morning News now reaches Marlin each morning at 5:30 a. m., just four hours earlier than heretofore. The automobile leaves Waco at 4 a. m. with the papers right off the press. An extra amount of Marlin news is now being published on this page, thus giving Marlin a special section, something never before attempted by any other paper. A large list of new subscribers is now being added to the list, which indicates that every one appreciates the Morning News' effort to give Marlin an early morning paper for the breakfast table instead of an afternoon pre-digest.

Senior B. Y. P. U. Meeting.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—At a most interesting meeting of the senior class of the B. Y. P. U. today, the subject for discussion was, "Does God Take Care of the Christian in Material Things?" Jesse Ross was leader. The chorus sang "God Will Take Care of You," and a prayer was offered. The Scripture lesson, taken from Deuteronomy 28:1-10, was read by Arthur Curry.

Miss Julia Curry, in a very convincing way told the class the meaning of material things, and was followed by Miss Louise Pexton, who took as her subject "What is Meant by Seeking First the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness," and painted some very pretty pictures.

A beautiful solo by Miss Fleta Mae Curry, entitled "Nothing Between," was much appreciated by those present. Miss Alva Fountain held the rapt attention of the audience when she discussed in her charming manner the subject, "Has Work Any Part in God's Care of Us in Material Things?" The concluding number on the program was a discussion of "How, Then, Does God Take Care of the Christian in Material Things?" This was handled in her usual calm and masterly manner by Miss Rosalind Kyser, and her well-chosen words made the class realize that her time in this meeting had been well spent, and all times closed with all feeling better from the lesson.

Social Events of Week.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—This week has been filled to overflowing with pleasure for the guests of the Billingsley house party. A series of delightful entertainments have been planned and executed for their entertainment, each one yielding with the other in their efforts to make the hours more pleasant for the jolly young crowd. The climax was reached last evening when about fifty assembled at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Billingsley and after a lovely dinner was served, were ushered to the ball for a delightful dip in the waters of the Brazos. Tradition says that those who dip in the waters of the Brazos will return again to their dear homes, and the wish of the many friends of the honor guests are that tradition will play no pranks, but live true to its promise, as each member will find at all times the warm welcome. The crowd was a merry one, indeed, and to make sure that each of the party actually "dipped" in the waters, all were initiated with a good dunking.

This was the last of a series of delightful entertainments for the pleasure of the house party, and included as guests the past week, and will be guests at a home party in Kosse this week. Mrs. Herring of Mt. Carmel is visiting Mrs. J. C. Shaw.

Miss Irma Garrett is visiting her sister in Kosse.

Mrs. C. L. Robertson is visiting relatives in Dallas and Terrell.

Bob Barker, a well known politician of Texas, is visiting in Marlin.

Mrs. J. G. Oltorf has returned from a visit with her parents in Clarendon.

Mrs. E. S. Singer and little son have returned from a visit with relatives in Houston.

Herman Nussbaum has returned from a several weeks' visit in the cotton markets and mill centers of the east.

Everett Johnson left this afternoon for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where he will take a business course in a commercial college.

Misses Flossie McBride and Lillian Allen, who have been the guests of Miss Blanche Norwood, have returned to their home in Bremond.

Wedding at Marlin.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McComa Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Mary Alice Killbrew became the bride of

Rev. I. F. Betts Preaches. Marlin, Aug. 20.—Rev. I. F. Betts, presiding elder of the Jacksonville district, is here and delivered a forceful sermon at the First Methodist church this morning to a most attentive and pleased congregation. Rev. Mr. Betts was formerly pastor of this church and he has many warm friends in Marlin who welcome an opportunity to hear him.

Surprise Wedding. Marlin, Aug. 20.—A surprise wedding indeed was that of Miss Emmie Powell to Sergeant Harry Wetzel, company E, Third Texas, stationed at Harlingen. The happy young couple left on a midnight train for Galveston for a brief honeymoon before Mr. Wetzel returns to his regiment.

Ready for New High School.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—Work of removing the buildings off the ground recently purchased by the school board as a site for the erection of the new $60,000 high school building has begun. The grounds will be beautified and will give the school children much additional space for their playground.

Cotton at High Level.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—Cotton receipts reached a high level in local markets yesterday, some bringing 14.35. The average price ranged around 14.10, several bales bringing more than $100, including sale of the seed. The price paid for cotton picking ranges from 60 to 75 cents per hundred pounds.

New Catholic Church Near Completion.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—The new church which is being erected on Oak and Capps streets by the Catholics of Marlin is fast nearing completion. Nearly all of the brick work is finished and the roof is on.

HOW DOES THE BEAUMONT
SENATOR VOTE?

According to the tabulated vote published in the Houston Chronicle of Sunday, submission won in the July primary in eighty-six legislative districts and lost in forty-one districts, giving four more than a two-thirds majority in such districts. In the senate, it won in twenty districts and lost in eleven districts, lacking one of two-thirds of such districts.

The returns for the Beaumont district, as shown by the press reports, gave it to submission. The count finally made gave a majority of seventy-eight against submission. The senator from that district is a hold-over.

The reason for the proceedings of the Houston convention will soon clearly appear to the public.

There is but one way to take the will of the people upon any question and that is prescribed by law. The people of Texas, as a whole, have called for the submission to them of a constitutional amendment on the subject of prohibition. It is now recognized to be their right to pass upon any question which they may choose to bring under their supreme power. Whenever a small minority (as of seventy-eight voters in one corner of the state) the right to vote upon any question, we shall cease to have a democracy and will be under a bureaucracy. If you want to know just what sort of a machine it would be, read the two volumes of testimony brought out in the brewers' suit at Sulphur Springs, which have just been published. Then you will better understand the secret agencies which now assume to control affairs in Texas, and the means they employ to control them.

The editor of The News did not "denounce" Cleveland, as alleged by the Fort Worth Record. It opposed his renomination in 1912, as did most of the people of Texas, and when he was nominated gave him a cheerful support. The editor of The News is yet to record a prediction that the democratic regime is about to end, and when he feels that way about it, he would be ashamed to seek honors at the party's hands. The editor of The News has never yet talked on one side and voted on the other. This much because of the Colquittian scheme to justify his course through comparison. There is nothing in Texas history which can be used as a precedent. Colquittianism is a new political invention, and it is a safe prediction that it will soon fall into innocuous desuetude.

The big drive of the allies has been extended to the Balkans, and the fighting is on along the entire Saloniki front. This means that at this moment war is doing the worst work it has done since time began. From the Somme to the far east, the cannon roars, and slaughter of thousands is a daily pastime. Industry is palsied, and the accretions of centuries are destroyed as so much chaff. Only one spot in the universe is making a genuine stand for peace, and but for Woodrow Wilson that would probably now be embroiled in war with at least two countries.

Leslie's Weekly has long been organ-in-chief for the republican reactionaries, and is now whooping things up for Hughes. It says: "Texas is getting tired of the trust busters, as everybody else is. In its recent primary election for member of the United States senate, we note that ex-Governor Colquitt, outstripped all competitors. It is he who recently declared against the anti-trust laws of the present administration as 'barefaced fakes so far as protecting the people from trust oppression is concerned.'"

Suppose Mr. Colquitt, a candidate for the reichstag in Berlin, had been detected in secret correspondence with Mr. Roble, who was in charge of an American propaganda, and had promised Roble that if he would help along the political ambitions of Colquitt that Colquitt would vote right when he got to the reichstag. Would Colquitt still be running for the reichstag? Nay, verily.

Consternation reigned at Camp Tyn, near Fort Worth, where 100 Texas girls are taking war lessons, because of the announcement of a rule that no boy will be permitted about the camp on Sunday. What's the use of military instructions for a girl except to teach her how to command a boy?

A SHOULDER BLOW.

Congressman Henry makes very plain his position in the senatorial contest. He characterizes the course of Colquitt as that of a "standpat republican" and says he is remaining in Texas for the purpose of casting his vote for Culberson.

Mr. Henry makes some pungent comments on the shift of Bailey from Culberson to Colquitt that hit the bullseye right in the middle. He calls attention to the inconsistency of Bailey in supporting Morris, who declared for national prohibition and national woman suffrage, and in opposing Culberson because he voted for the federal child labor law, which involves a much less important exercise of federal jurisdiction than the first two proposals.

The conclusion which Mr. Henry draws that Bailey and Colquitt have combined to try to elect Colquitt now and Bailey two years hence is unavoidable. In that view, the primary to be held next Saturday takes on a significance which goes far beyond the immediate result.

The truth is we have come to the point in Texas where we must decide whether the democratic party shall be delivered over to its avowed enemies, who would, if they could, put an end to it, and make the election of Hughes unanimous, or whether it will shake off their poisonous clutch and stand forth a vigorous exponent of democratic policies and clean politics.

Colquittism is coming to have a definite meaning, and it is far removed from anything that savors of democracy.

The president has used all means at his command to avert a strike of railroad employees, and the question is now up to the managers. If they accept the eight-hour day, other issues will be arbitrated. If they refuse that, a strike will be declared at once. Today will probably tell the story.

There is some danger that Hughes will relapse into a joke, unless he discovers pretty soon that he is running for the presidency of the United States, not for the presidency of the Chinook Fishing Club.

Waco joins heartily in response to the call for help from Buckner Orphans' Home. When Humanity voices its urgent need in a cry of distress, that call is paramount.

Hughes has put his foot in his mouth so often since he went west that he is beginning to talk dishraggy.

Editorial Round-Up

"Pray Before Being Married." Here is a Russian proverb, that might be made good use of. It certainly would dispel a multitude of sorrows, especially the last one, which would prevent many hasty marriages and relieve the courts of many divorce cases. It takes matrimony out of the pale of whims and makes a divine consideration of it. The proverb runs this way:

"If you go to war, pray; if you go on a sea journey, pray twice; but pray three times if you are going to be married."

Good advice, all of it. There is too much that is hysterical in the matrimonial venture, and a little praying will tend to relieve the mind.—Ohio State Journal.

Fall Grain Needed. Hunt county from year to year is losing large profits through the neglect of planting cover crops, wheat, oats, rye, etc. This loss comes about in this way: The loss of the nutrient which is needed for the future, the loss of the nutrient which would be put into the soil by the growing crops. This fall should see the greatest accretion of grain in the history of Hunt county. If next spring it is found that it is not desirable to mature the crops, the land can be planted to corn or other crops, there having been enough gained from the crop to make the expenses of breaking the land, grazing and otherwise already secured.—Greenville Banner.

In Which Class Is Waco? S. C. Killen, editor and publisher of the Hillsboro (Ore.) Independent, recently invited to address the University of Oregon school of journalism, said among other things: "Judging from my own experience I believe there is a broader viewpoint and more general information among the people up on the farms and in the small towns than in the cities. The true provincial is found in the large cities of the east." It is neither fair nor safe to generalize on the subject of this kind. It can be said within reason, however, that to find genuine provincialism one must seek it among the class represented by the city person or the city newspaper that speaks of the small-town man or farmer as "day seed" or a "jay"—Christian Science Monitor.

A Beautiful Picture. Great masters have painted golden sunsets, forests, streams and lake scenes. They have put upon canvas the glow of youth, the charm of beauty and the spell of twilight. Artists have transferred to cloth with pigments the perfect shoulder's curve, the rounded bust, the crimson lip and the dimpled arm. They have caught the gleam of the raiment upon the bosom of a limpid pool, and have painted fruit so natural that insects have been fooled by the magic of the art.

shown His power over life and death, and shadowed forth the glories of immortality. Besides the joys that come to loving hearts, wed after God's holy ordinances, hearts thrilled with the exquisite chaos of parenthood, being over their wondrous babe, there is nothing else in all the wide, wide world that satisfies half so well. Wedded life and the home, where the prattle of little children is heard about the house, where Hope dwells and Faith abides, side by side with pure Affection, is the one thing to be desired above all things else in this life.—Clebourn Enterprise.

Peace Not in Sight. The war is not over. Predictions of the time of its end are but speculations. Nevertheless, it is tolerably plain that it can have but one end. The allies are too much for Germany. The Kaiser has put up the most wonderful fight the world has known, but the odds are too much against him. This must be admitted even by the German sympathizers. But it does not follow that Germany will be permanently crippled or long impeded in re-establishing the nation's industries. The German people are resourceful, persistent. No matter how much of a burden is left upon them, they will accept it with courage and fortitude, and they will overcome the weight in time. Nor is it unreasonable to hope that out of this Titanic and seemingly blind struggle may come a better understanding in Europe and the world over that will make for a broader humanity.—Washington (Ind.) Journal.

Our "Mob Democracy"—File on it! "We have changed our government," says a recent bulletin of that Los Angeles bank which was quoted on the editorial page of yesterday's Bulletin in the twinkling of the eye to a mob democracy. Its workings have not been successful.

"Mob" has two principal meanings. In one sense it is, as the dictionary puts it, "a lawless or turbulent crowd." In the other it is "the lower orders of people; the masses." As an electorate, voting according to the forms of law, is obviously not lawless, and as the California electorate has not been "mobbed" here we have the second meaning.

Democracy is derived from two Greek roots, meaning people's power or rule by the people or masses. So there is no democracy that is not "mob" democracy, and what the writer of the Farmers and Merchants' National bank bulletin actually meant was that California had changed from a government of the people to a government of the mob, or mobocracy—to one that was democracy. That is the issue at present. Governor Johnson represents democracy, or rule by the people, and his opponents represent rule by the few.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Blazing the Way. Finding one's way along the unknown road with the help of a map or tour guide is very much easier than the old-fashioned method of asking for guidance at farm houses every few miles. But it is not so easy as following a well-marked route, and the Daughters of the American Revolution have accordingly made the highway through Texas thoroughfare, the King's Highway, by granite boulders. Other through routes should be so indicated.

In Massachusetts roads are marked by painting bands on the poles and bridges along the way, even through the cities. Blue bands with white borders are used for routes running north and south, red bands for east and west, and yellow bands for north and south. If we would make a plea for better marking of Beaumont streets, a stranger finding his way through this city needs must inquire of policemen or pedestrians, friendly or otherwise, and the expense of Beaumont streets do not run exactly north and south and east and west is also extremely confusing at times.

Many of the street signs have been torn down and those which were replaced by permanent markings, it would be another step toward making the city attractive to strangers.—Beaumont Journal.

OH, YOU DOCTORS! The Indiana Medical Journal, the official organ of the "ethical" element of Indiana physicians, remarks editorially that: "It is a little amusing to note how quickly a 'dying man' recovers after he is released from the penitentiary. We will remember how the newspapers and interested persons said that it was a crime to keep Charles W. Morse in the federal prison when at the point of death from an incurable affliction. Taft issued a pardon. Of course, a common felon, guilty, perhaps, of stealing a pig to furnish food to a starving family, could die in prison without a word of sympathy. But the man who steals millions and wrecks the lives of countless people must be shown leniency. But the joke of the Morse case is that Morse quickly recovered his health after being liberated from the federal prison, and is now a leader in large financial transactions. This only goes to show that men do not always get their just deserts. Some get too much of a good thing, while others do not get enough."

It is also a "little amusing" to note that this same Morse incident furnishes up with convincing evidence of the fallibility of ethical medical judgments. It will be recalled that Mr. Morse was not released from prison by President Taft until after a number of eminent physicians had examined him and had declared emphatically that he had only a few weeks to live. The doctor of the federal prison having passed this judgment, two distinguished specialists were called in to examine the man. They heartily concurred in the previous report. Morse was a dying man, they were all agreed, so President Taft released him to go home where he would be convenient to the cemetery after his demise.

Now these doctors all stood high in their profession. They were all ethical, too, so very ethical in fact that they wouldn't even drink Peruna until it had been poured out into a regular whiskey bottle. They were distinguished doctors, and every mother's son of them, and they were essentially honest, also. They were above bribery or the suspicion of bribery. Yet they all united in declaring Mr. Morse would die within a few weeks. They were plainly mistaken, honestly mistaken, no doubt, but nevertheless mistaken. In this connection we cannot help speculating as to what would have been said by the ethical element of the fraternity in general and by those members of it in particular had Mr. Morse been released upon the solemn declaration of a lot of advertising doctors that he was a dying man. The News, although not particularly prudish, almost blushes to think of language so unseemly.—Fort Wayne (Ind.) News.

The "Caribad of America." Where the Lame Learn to Walk, Appetites are Restored and Health is Regained. Where the Deepest Hot Wells in America Send Forth Limitless Quantities of Healing Waters.

R. C. FAIN, News Correspondent. Phone 493. Residence 415 Capps St.

Anyone having news matter or items of interest will please phone them in to Mr. Fain by 4 o'clock each day.

The Waco Morning News now reaches Marlin each morning at 5:30 a. m., just four hours earlier than heretofore. The automobile leaves Waco at 4 a. m. with the papers right off the press. An extra amount of Marlin news is now being published on this page, thus giving Marlin a special news section, something never before attempted by any other paper. A large list of new subscribers is now being added to the list, which indicates that every one appreciates the Morning News' effort to give Marlin an early morning paper for the breakfast table instead of an afternoon pre-digest.

Senior B. Y. P. U. Meeting. Marlin, Aug. 20.—At a most interesting meeting of the senior class of the B. Y. P. U. today, the subject for discussion was, "Does God Take Care of the Christian in Material Things?" Jesse Ross was leader. The chorus sang "God Will Take Care of You," and a prayer was offered. The Scripture lesson, taken from Deuteronomy 32:1-16, was read by Arthur Curry. Miss Julia Curry, in a very convincing way told the class the meaning of material things, and was followed by Miss Louise Peyton, who took as her subject "What is Meant by the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness?" and painted some very pretty word pictures.

A beautiful solo by Miss Fleta Mac Curry, entitled "Nothing Between," was much appreciated by those present.

Miss Alva Fountain held the rapt attention of the audience when she discussed in her charming manner the subject "Work as My Part in God's Call of Us in Material Things." The concluding number on the program was a discussion of "How, Then, Does God Take Care of the Christian in Material Things?" The speaker, Miss Ross, in a calm and masterly manner by Miss Rosalind Kyser, and her well-chosen words made the class realize that her time in this meeting had been well spent and the meeting closed with all feeling better from the lesson.

Social Events of Week.

Marlin, Aug. 20.—This week has been filled to overflowing with social events. The guests of the Billingsley house party. A series of delightful entertainments have been planned and executed for their entertainment, each one vying with the other in their efforts to make the party most pleasant for the young crowd. The climax was reached last evening when about fifty assembled at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Billingsley, and after a lovely dinner, the guests were ushered to waiting automobiles and hied away to the falls for a delightful dip in the waters of the Brazos. Tradition says that those who dip in the waters of the Brazos will return again to the land of the living. The wishes of the many friends of the honor guests are that tradition will play no pranks, but live true to its promise, as each member will in their efforts to make the party open to them and a warm welcome. The crowd was a merry one, indeed, and to make sure that each of the party actually "dipped" in the waters, all were initiated with a good ducking. This was the last of a series of delightful entertainments for the pleasure of the house party, and included as guests the host and hostess of other entertainments for them.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kyser Entertain. Marlin, Aug. 20.—A most delightful entertainment was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kyser, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Mary Alice Killbuck became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kyser.

SHORT STORY.

AN EXPERIMENT IN DINNERS.

By FANNY GRAY.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper

After two weeks of blissful honeymoon

In his modest new home, Harry Carr firmly believed that all newspaper jokes about newly-weds, including wife's behavior, cranky cook, stove, burned steak and the like, were just newspaper jokes and nothing more.

He hadn't been living upon the fat of the land? Hadn't his meals been right on time, everything cooked to a turn? Why, something really ought to happen, or he would be taking on again the superfluous pounds he had such a struggle to throw off. Of course, there was a maid in the kitchen, but Harry never doubted

for a moment that it was his bride, Molly, who really made it possible for these wonderful things to happen. He never occurred to him that any credit for the smooth-running household could be due to any one else. And to do Molly credit, she was a capable, bright, up-to-date young woman, quite equal to most of the duties that fell to her. But, like hundreds of other girls, she never had studied household affairs in any very practical manner. Mamma had gone upon the principle that a girl imbibes that sort of thing in a well-ordered home, and, when thrown upon her own resources, can make good.

Very likely she does, nine times out of ten, but she must pass through rather difficult places which her better-trained sister avoids.

Now Molly had about as much confidence in her own ability in the kitchen as

Harry had, although she had never been put severely to the test, where everything depended upon her alone. So, when Molly first day arrived alone, and

SHORT STORY.

AN EXPERIMENT IN DINNERS.

By FANNY GRAY.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

After two weeks of blissful honeymoon in his modest new home, Harry Carr firmly believed that all newspaper jokes about newly-weds, including wife's bisecting, crazy cooking, burned steak and the like, were just newspaper jokes and nothing more.

Hadn't he been living upon the fat of the land? Hadn't his meals been right on time, everything cooked to a turn? Why, something really ought to happen, or he would be taking on again the superfluous pounds he had such a struggle to throw off. Of course, there was a maid in the kitchen, but Harry never doubted for a moment that it was his bride, Molly, who really made it possible for these wonders to be evolved.

She so fulfilled his ideals in other ways he never occurred to him that any credit for the smooth-running household could be due to any one else. And, to do Molly credit, she was a capable, bright, up-to-date young woman, quite equal to most of the duties that fell to her. But, like hundreds of other girls, she never had studied household efficiency in any very practical manner. Mamma had gone upon the principle that a girl imbibes that sort of thing in a well-orderd home, and when she turned upon her own resources, can make good.

Very likely she does, nine times out of ten, but she must pass through rather difficult places which her better-trained sister avoids.

New Molly had about as much confidence in her own ability in the kitchen as Harry had, although she had never been put severely to the test, where everything depended upon her alone. So, when Harry's first day arrived she and Harry both looked forward to it as a sort of lark. As they were drinking their coffee that morning, the following conversation took place:

"Now don't go and try to get up a regular dinner tonight, honey. I'm eating too much, anyway. And I won't have you getting all hot and tired working over a stove!"

"That's very sweet of you, Harry, but don't imagine that we can't have dinner just because Bridget is out. I shall enjoy getting it. And I don't think much of wives who get set cold bills because they're lazy. You'll see."

"All right, pet, suit yourself, but, remember, any kind of a meal with you opposite is good enough for me. It's a feast just to look at you!"

They followed one of those episodes that occur not infrequently at honeymoon breakfast tables.

"Stop your nonsense, Harry, and listen to me. Is there any special thing you'd like for dinner?"

"Can't think of a thing. Be ready on time, and if the dinner is very good I might have something in my pocket. It might be tickets for the Hippodrome!"

"Oh, how lovely! Of course I'll be on time. Don't miss the early train!"

The usual lover-like demonstration, and Harry's reply, had revealed a little. Molly ordered liberally from the market, and returned to find Bridget surveying the piled-up table, as she stood with hat and coat on, ready to go out.

"Oh, no, Bridget. Why do you ask?"

"Such a lot of stuff to cook. You'll be tired out, I'm thinking."

"We are going to have a very good dinner tonight, Bridget. It's the first chance I've had."

"Well, I wish you luck!" And Bridget laughed good-naturedly as she went down the walk.

In the middle of the afternoon, Molly, after putting out her street suit and hat so that she might make a lightning change if the theater tickets were forthcoming, descended to the kitchen to meet her new blue linen dress, and tackled the dinner.

She sang as she went about her work, picturing Harry's pride in her, and his enjoyment of the dinner, for she had arranged to have the things he most liked.

About half past five, Mrs. Webster, a near neighbor, who had made friends at once with Molly, rang the bell of the Carrs' house. Molly answered, sat down with her caller, and apologized for her dress. But she was so evidently nervous and left the room so many times on one excuse or another that her experienced friend began to realize that something must be wrong with kitchen arrangements.

At last, the truth came out and Molly explained her predicament, between tears and laughter. Her tears were not the proverbial ones of the sad and helpless bride, but they were angry ones, giving way finally to a burst of hysterical laughter as the ridiculousness of the situation came home.

"Why?" Mrs. Webster, she cried, "it never occurred to me I couldn't get a whole dinner alone! I've done lots of cooking!"

"Yes, with mother or cook near by, I suspect," answered her friend.

"If only Harry didn't have to know what a mess I've made!" wailed Molly.

"Why, I told him I knew everything, and I've planned to have all his favorite things."

"Come on out and let's see how bad it is," suggested Mrs. Webster.

It did seem rather hopeless. There was a fire, however. Bridget had been to that. But on the table lay a fierce-looking collection of cooking utensils and dishes, all soiled. Mrs. Webster peered into everything, while Molly explained. Mocking her own being Harry's favorite, she had decided upon that, and had made it early to have it out of the way. There it stood on the back of the stove, a fine curried mess, keeping her.

When Mrs. Webster explained that the milk and tomato should be put together only at the moment of sending to the table, Molly felt decidedly limp. The roast beef she had put good and early in the new double roaster, laboring under the delusion that the invention absorbed one from giving any further attention to the meat. A glance at it, just before her neighbor's arrival, had revealed a little, dried-up, hard piece of beef, utterly unfit to serve. The mayonnaise, having refused to mix, stood in a bowl on the table. Some beef, which should have been boiling for the past two hours, were just beginning to cook.

Molly and Mrs. Webster looked at each other a moment and then cleared the atmosphere by laughing immoderately. When Molly could get her breath, she said:

"What shall I do? Of course my pride is hurt, and I hate to tell Harry, but I suppose I must."

"Will you let me suggest?" asked the neighbor. And at a nod from Molly, she proceeded:

"Why tell him that you tried to get a dinner at all? He has suggested the theater, you say. It would be most natural for you to have a light supper to save trouble, as you may be going out."

"I didn't mind him this morning I didn't mind the trouble and that I was going to get dinner."

"Never mind. People sometimes change their minds. I don't want to corrupt your morals, but I advise you to do as I say. If you will, I can help you out."

Molly nodded assent.

Good! Now what salad have you got?"

"Lettuce and tomato."

"Couldn't be better. Let's make up some attractive-looking plates and use French dressing. Any canned soup in the house?"

"Only ready-made tomato."

"The very thing! Haven't you learned the secret of putting hot milk and a bit of butter to that just before serving? Very likely it will be mistaken for your own brand of bisque."

"Great! You're a wonder, Mrs. Webster."

"No, just an old housekeeper. Now, I've got cold ham and a cream cheese can spare, and I'm going to send them over. If by any chance you have your dessert, don't you see that with a pot of coffee you'll have a delicious and hearty supper. After all, I do as I say. If you will, I can help you out."

"I see I've got the best neighbor in the world, and I'm certainly going to take her advice," said Molly. And she proceeded to carry out her word.

TRAVELING MEN PLAN FOR COTTON PALACE

Ten new members were enrolled in the Texas Travelers at the meeting yesterday morning at the Raleigh, as follows: R. E. Colson, T. C. Watters, Ernst Goeth, Harry Hoffman, J. T. Turk, G. P. Sharp, W. H. Caruthers, C. W. Greathouse, R. L. King and Frank Keene.

Application blanks have been furnished the membership at large and enrolments in large numbers are expected with the coming of the fall months.

A communication from John A. Guffee of Fort Worth showing a wide interest in the Texas Travelers throughout western and northern Texas was received. Mr. Guffee asking for a bunch of blank applications.

A communication to the organization regarding Traveling Men's Day at the Dallas fair was read and upon motion of J. W. Barnett, President McClintock of the Texas Travelers will appoint a committee of three to cooperate with other committees to be appointed by various organizations to confer with the management of the Dallas fair as to the members of the Texas Travelers participating in Traveling Men's Day at the Dallas fair.

There are several members of the Texas Travelers living in Dallas. President McClintock will name his committee shortly.

C. G. Feist, E. L. Farley, Chairman, T. A. Schmitt of the hotel committee, Chairman T. T. Covey of the transportation committee and others spoke of improvements being made in hotel accommodations and sanitation over Texas, also the matter of the Texas Travelers assisting in matters relative to advancement of state and local conditions.

A cordial letter from Mrs. D. J. Stanton, widow of a traveling man who recently died in Waco, was read by Chairman A. D. Adams of the sick committee. Mrs. Stanton stating that the attention shown the deceased was greatly appreciated, especially since Mr. Stanton was not a member of the order, demonstrating that the traveling men always feel an interest in a fellow traveler.

The Texas Travelers adjourned at 10 o'clock and went into a general session with all traveling men, with Chairman Jack Ray of Traveling Men's Day for the Cotton Palace, presiding, the meeting being to outline the forthcoming work and to discuss plans.

THEATRES

HIPPODROME.

"The Payment."

The story of a woman's great sacrifice on the altar of her ambition and the payment she was formed to make years later when fame had seemed so easily bought is "The Payment," starring Bessie Barriscale and showing at the Hippodrome theatre today and tomorrow. Miss Barriscale is her own dear self in this picture, not in the least disguising her natural beauty in nun's robes or other costumes, and she has endowed the character of Phyllis Page with many natural lovable qualities, even though she is led by ambition to make a woman's greatest sacrifice. The character is not an easy one to portray, but Miss Barriscale has presented it with a beautiful understanding of the girl's great longing and her temptation. William Desmond, too, is excellent as the young lover who came into the girl's life at a time when she was tired of fame and hungry for love. But to Charles Miller, the character of Royburn, the business man, middle-aged and married, a natural, every-day character who moves and acts in a natural every-day manner, devoid of melodrama, must go the honors of the production next to the star herself. Gertrude Claire has an excellent part and she can always be depended on to play well.

Phyllis has no money, friends or influence; but she has a God-given talent in art and a great ambition that will not be denied. Hence she takes the way she can get money for study, and sells her honor to Royburn. A few years later she is famous and sought after, and on returning to America, again meets Royburn. The burst out passion is a thing of the past and Royburn very naturally tells her they will meet as acquaintances and he will trouble her in no manner. And then young Dick, handsome, passionately in love and impetuous, comes into her life and makes her realize that she has never loved before. Royburn says, "It is nothing to me and I will not interfere, but you have no right to cheat him." There is a wonderful ending to "The Payment."

QUEEN.

Today, Clara Kimball Young in Her Wonderful Play, "Camille."

First, last and always mainly vigor is demanded of a picture star. It is this attribute which has led to the overwhelmingly popularity of William Russell, the star of the Mutual Star production, "Soul Mates," which comes to the Queen theatre on Tuesday. From the moment he makes his appearance on the screen the spectator subconsciously knows that here is a man, able to perform a man's work entirely upon his own resources.

Mr. Russell has built up a wide following chiefly through his manly character.

Russell is first a man and then an actor. He has had wide experience in various roles and has always made the role he played stand out above the creation of the author. He is gifted with the knowledge of human emotions and understands how to express them.

Humane Officer Will Punish Bird Murderers

One of the wealthiest men of Waco and a leading business officer G. M. Yarbrough if there wasn't a state law against the killing of our birds. The officer answered the question in the affirmative. The inquirer continued: "A few days ago I noticed a boy apparently fourteen or fifteen years old, with an air gun in hand and a string of dead birds in the other hand. Among the string of birds I noticed three well-known natives—the red head, the jay and the sweetest of all singers, the mocking bird."

The birds' friend could give but a partial description of the guilty boy, which fact, no doubt, saved him some trouble, as Mr. Yarbrough intends to enforce the law.

The humane officer says concerning the matter: "I have already warned the boys and those who are responsible meeting of the old settlers will stop. I will continue to watch out for the guilty in this case."

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY PAT CLEBURNE

The Pat Cleburne camp No. 222, of the United Confederate veterans, held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the armory on Austin street. The meeting was well attended, considering the hot afternoon. But as some said, "Those old fellows don't care for anything. They are on the job."

Quartermaster John Moore made a report dated from August 10, 1888, to the present time, which is a period of twenty-eight years. The report was heard with much interest. A summary of the report follows:

Amount received.....$7,789.00
Amount expended.....7,742.35
Balance on hand.....$46.65

The following officers were elected: C. L. Johnson, commander; J. D. Morgan, first lieutenant; (re-elected); E. W. Tarrant, second lieutenant; Bradford Hancock, adjutant (re-elected); John Moore, quartermaster (re-elected); William Lamm, chaplain (re-elected); W. L. Stone, color sergeant (re-elected); T. E. Cox, historian (re-elected).

The camp passed a resolution requesting Judge James P. Alexander, democratic nominee for county judge, to retain Miss Mamie Davis in his office in her present position. Miss Davis has been very kind to the old soldiers in the matter of making out their pension papers, and it is said she knows every one of the veterans by name.

Call Issued for Teachers' Exams. August 1-Sept. 2

County Superintendent R. L. Abbott has issued a call for the teachers' examination to be held August 31, September 1 and 2. The white applicants will take the examination in the Baylor library, while the colored applicants will report to the county court house for the examination. The following schedule is the order of subjects:

Thursday forenoon: History of education, physics, solid geometry, American literature.

Thursday afternoon: Physiology, chemistry, bookkeeping, plane trigonometry.

Friday forenoon: Physical geography, physiology, composition, arithmetic.

Friday afternoon: Texas history, for their lack of training, that this plane geometry.

Saturday forenoon: Spelling, writing, methods and management, civics, reading.

Saturday afternoon: United States history, general history, agriculture, algebra.

Wants Housewives to Aid in Making Ordinance Effective

Weights and Measures Inspector J. B. Strother has been a very busy man during the past two weeks, but now has his plan of weights and measures working, though he asks the full cooperation of the people in order that it may be a complete success.

He states that most of the peddlers and others now have the standard scales, but that they may not all use them unless the people demand this. He requests that all buyers of anything from the peddlers and others ask for the standard weights and measures process when they are thus making purchases; otherwise, he says, buckets still will be used in dealing out certain things, and the quantity sold will be too small.

Inspector Strother is very anxious to have the aid of the housewives, and requests them to see that peddlers come up to the required standard when they sell anything.

Cotton Pickers Are in Good Demand

Cotton pickers already are in pretty heavy demand in the city, and farmers are coming in after them right along.

The price paid for picking ranges from 60 to 70 cents, but it is thought that when the cotton begins to open very freely it probably will advance to 75 cents and perhaps a little more, as farmers will want to get their cotton out as quickly as possible if prices hold up as they are.

Already a good many negroes have gone to the country, but there are still thousands who have not gone, and if the chances are that many of those who are still in the city will desert and go to the cotton patch.

Outlining Plans for Old Settlers

It was stated yesterday by Colonel W. A. Poage, who is the head of the old settlers' movement, that most of the committees which served last year in the big basket dinner and get to groups of old friends who will have named again, and that there probably will not be much change in the committees this time.

He also is anxious that the ladies who worked so hard last year will get as interested this year and add their great influence to the efforts which are to be put forth.

The basket dinner on the grounds will be so arranged that there will be a public table for all who wish to eat there and also there will be special groups of old friends who will have their dinner together.

The date which has been selected for this old settlers' reunion, September 3, it is believed will be a suitable one, and many are expected from points outside of this county.

TRAVELING MEN PLAN FOR COTTON PALACE

Ten new members were enrolled in the Texas Travelers at the meeting yesterday morning at the Raleigh, as follows: R. E. Colson, T. C. Waiters, Ernst Goeth, Harry Hoffman, J. T. Turk, G. P. Sharp, W. H. Caruthers, C. W. Greathouse, R. L. King and Frank Keene.

Application blanks have been furnished to the membership at large and enrolments in large numbers are expected with the coming of the fall months.

A communication from John A. Guffee of Fort Worth showing a wide interest in the Texas Travelers throughout western and northern Texas was received. Mr. Guffee asking for a bunch of blank applications.

A communication to the organization regarding Traveling Men's Day at the Dallas fair was read and upon motion of J. W. Barnett, President of the Texas Travelers will appoint a committee of three to co-operate with other committees to be appointed by various organizations to confer with the management of the Dallas fair as to the members of the Texas Travelers participating in Traveling Men's Day at the Dallas fair. There are several members of the Texas Travelers living in Dallas. President McClintock will name his committee shortly.

C. G. Feist, E. L. Farley, Chairman E. A. Schmitt of the hotel committee, Chairman T. T. Covey of the transportation committee and others spoke of improvements being made in hotel accommodations and sanitation over Texas, also the matter of the Texas Travelers assisting in matters relative to advancement of state and local conditions.

A cordial letter from Mrs. D. J. Stanton, widow of a traveling man who recently died in Waco, was read by Chairman A. D. Adams of the sick committee. Mrs. Stanton stating that the attention shown the deceased was greatly appreciated, especially since the order, demonstrating that the traveling men always feel an interest in a fellow traveler.

The Texas Travelers adjourned at 10 o'clock and went into a general session with all traveling men, with Chairman Jack Ray of Traveling Men's Day for the Cotton Palace, presiding, the meeting being to outline the forthcoming work and to discuss plans.

THEATRES

HIPPODROME.

"The Payment."

The story of a woman's great sacrifice on the altar of her ambition and the payment she was forced to make years later when fame had seemed so easily bought is "The Payment," starring Bessie Barriscale and showing at the Hippodrome theatre today and tomorrow. Miss Barriscale is her own dear self in this picture, not in least disguising her natural beauty in nun's robes or other costumes, and she has endowed the character of Phyllis Page with many natural lovable qualities, even though she is led by ambition to make a woman's greatest sacrifice. The character is not an easy one to portray, but Miss Barriscale has presented it with a beautiful understanding of the girl's great longing and her temptation. William Desmond, too, is excellent as the young lover who came into the girl's life at a time when she was tired of fame and hungry for love. But to Charles Millet, in the character of Reburn, the business man, middle-aged, married, a natural, every-day character who moves and acts in a natural every-day manner, devoid of melodrama, must go the honors of the production next to the star herself. Gertrude Claire has an excellent part and she can always be depended on to play well.

Phyllis has no money, friends or influence, but she has a God-given talent in art and a great ambition that will not be denied. Hence she takes the way she can get money for study, and sells her honor to Reburn. A few years later she is famous and sought after, and on returning to America, again meets Reburn. The burnt out passion is a thing of the past and Reburn very naturally tells her they will meet as acquaintances and he will trouble her in no manner. And then young Dick, handsome, passionately in love and impetuous, comes into her life and makes her realize that she has never loved before. Reburn says, "It is nothing to me and I will not interfere, but you have no right to cheat him." There is a wonderful ending to "The Payment."

QUEEN.

Today, Clara Kimball Young in Her Wonderful Play, "Camille."

First, last and always, manly vigor is demanded of a picture star. It is this attribute which has led to the overwhelming popularity of William Russell, the star of the Mutual Star production, "Soul Mates," which comes to the Queen theatre on Tuesday. From the moment he makes his appearance on the screen the spectator subconsciously knows that here is a man, able to perform a man's work entirely upon his own resources.

Mr. Russell has built up a wide following chiefly through his manly character. Russell is first a man and then an actor. He has had wide experience in various roles and has always made the role he played stand out above the creation of the author. He is gifted with the knowledge of human emotions and understands how to express them.

Humane Officer Will Punish Bird Murderers

One of the wealthiest men of Waco and a leading business man of this city asked Humane Officer G. M. Yarbrough if there wasn't a state law against the killing of our birds. The officer answered the question in the affirmative. The inquirer continued, "A few days ago I noticed a boy apparently fourteen or fifteen years old, with an air gun in hand and a string of dead birds in the other hand. Among the string of birds I noticed three well-known natives—the red head, the jay and the sweetest of all singers, the mocking bird."

The birds' friend could give but a partial description of the guilty boy, which fact, no doubt, saved him some trouble, as Mr. Yarbrough intends to enforce the law.

The humane officer says concerning the matter: "I have already warned the boys and those who are responsible meeting of the old settlers will stop. I will continue to watch out for the guilty in this case."

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY PAT CLEBURNE

The Pat Cleburne camp No. 222, of the United Confederate veterans, held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the armory on Austin street. The meeting was well attended, considering the hot afternoon. But as some said, "These old fellows don't care for anything. They are on the job."

Quartermaster John Moore made a report dating from August 10, 1888, to the present time, which is a period of twenty-eight years. The report was heard with much interest. A summary of the report follows:

Amount received.....$7,789.00
Amount expended.....7,742.25
Balance on hand.....$46.65
The following officers were elected: C. L. Johnson, commander; J. D. Morgan, first lieutenant (re-elected); E. W. Tarrant, second lieutenant; Bradford Hancock, adjutant (re-elected); John Moore, quartermaster (re-elected); William Lammelin, chaplain (re-elected); W. I. Stone, color sergeant (re-elected); T. E. Cox, historian (re-elected).

The camp passed a resolution requesting Judge James P. Alexander, democratic nominee for county judge, to retain Miss Mamie Davis in his office in her present position. Miss Davis has been very kind to the old soldiers in the matter of making out their pension papers, and it is said she knows every one of the veterans by name.

Call Issued for Teachers' Exams. August 1-Sept. 2

Wants Housewives to Aid in Making Ordinance Effective

Weights and Measures Inspector J. E. Strother has been a very busy man during the past two weeks, but now has his plan of weights and measures working, though he asks the full cooperation of the people in order that it may be a complete success.

He states that most of the peddlers and others now have the standard scales, but that they may not all use them unless the people demand this. He requests that all buyers of anything from the peddlers and others ask for the standard weights and measures process when they are thus making purchases; otherwise, he says, buckets still will be used in dealing out certain things, and the quantity sold will be too small.

Inspector Strother is very anxious to have the aid of the housewives, and requests them to see that peddlers come up to the required standard when they sell anything.

Cotton Pickers Are in Good Demand

Cotton pickers already are in pretty heavy demand in the city, and farmers are coming in after them right along.

The price paid for picking ranges from 60 to 70 cents, but it is thought that when the cotton begins to open very freely it probably will advance to 75 cents and perhaps a little more, as farmers will want to get their cotton out as quickly as possible if prices hold up as they are.

Already a good many negroes have gone to the country, but there are still thousands who have not gone, and if prices go still higher for picking, the chances are that many of those who are still in the city will desert and go to the cotton patch.

Outlining Plans for Old Settlers

It was stated yesterday by Colonel W. A. Ponce, who is the head of the old settlers' movement, that most of the committees which served last year in the big basket dinner and get-togethers of old friends who will have been named again, and that there probably will not be much change in the committees this time.

He also is anxious that the ladies who worked so hard last year will get as interested this year and add their great influence to the efforts which are to be put forth.

The basket dinner on the grounds will be so arranged that there will be a public table for all who wish to eat there and also there will be special groups of old friends who will have their dinner together.
